Ball Suits Are Lost?

Somewhere in Stirling there are a number of softball uniforms, which could be put to good use by some of the boys now playing softball. The uniforms had the names of local merchants inscribed across the shoulders and were blue in colour with yellow trim. Anyone having one of these uniforms is asked to communicate with Geo. B. Noble.

Car Hit By Train.

Four people in a Pontiac car bearing license number A17696 narrowly escaped death at the level crossing on Old Marmora Rd., Stirling, Tuesday afternoon when hit by a CNR train going west. Testimonial Dinner and Presentation In Honour of Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn

Teacher in Stirling Public School For 23 Years —
Sponsored By School Board

Forty years of loyal and efficient service in the teaching profession were fittingly recognized on Thursday evening last when the Stirling Public School Board sponsored a testimonial dinner in honour of Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn, who retired as a member of the teaching staff of the local public school the end of June. Mrs. Meiklejohn, who was the former Nellie Montgomery, first taught in Stirling from 1917 to 1920 and returned in 1937 to finish her teaching career.

Members of Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211 were the caterers for the turkey dinner, which was attended by citizens from every walk of life in Stirling and community and friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Meiklejohn. Edwin Warren, Chairman of the Public School Board, acted as master of ceremonies and Rev. W. G. Fletcher gave Grace.

Following the dinner, R. A. Patterson led in community singing, with Mrs. B. Glendinning at the piano.

In the absence of Reeve J. V. Holt, Councillor H. R. Tompkins extended civic greetings on behalf of the Village.

The chairman introduced members of Mrs. Meiklejohn's immediate family, including her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Montgomery, of Fenella, and her two sisters, Miss Laura Montgomery, of Cobourg, and Mrs. Betty Stewart, of Millbrook.

Mr. Warren also read a letter of congratulations and good wishes from Miss Cora Bailey on behalf of the Federation of Women Teachers, and a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Alan Meiklejohn, of Hamilton.

G. W. Nelson, of Tweed, Inspector of Centre Hastings, paid tribute to the outstanding service rendered by Mrs. Meiklejohn in her chosen profession and Miss Carol Ray gave a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Glendinning.

Miss Rosa Spry read an appropriate address and Dr. Wm. Cornett made the presentation of two plaques and a purse of money to Mrs. Meiklejohn on behalf of the Public School Board. The plaques, one of which is to be erected in the Stirling Public School, are inscribed:

"Presented to Mrs. N. Meiklejohn (nee Montgomery) on her retirement and in recognition of 23 years of loyal service to Stirling Public School. June 1958."

Mrs. Meiklejohn expressed her sincere thanks and appreciation to all for the dinner and beautiful gifts and R. E. Fox and Dr. E. A. Carleton, former members of Stirling School Board, spoke briefly.

A group of young ladies rendered several vocal selections and Ray Marilyn voiced thanks to the Rebekahs for a delicious dinner. Miss Mary Hulin replied for the ladies and Chairman E. Warren thanked all who had a part in the programme.

The singing of Auld Lang Syne brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Scott and R. A. Patterson, who went to her aid. Dr. W. Cornett was summoned and later she was taken to hospital by Duffin's Ambulance.

Gerald McFaul suffered painful injuries Wednesday afternoon while unloading hay in his farm barn on the 12th Concession of Rawdon, near Bonarlaw. The hay fork broke loose from the top of the barn and fell striking Mr. McFaul on the head. His young son, Murray, 5 years old, ran to the house to give the alarm, and Mrs. McFaul, assisted by Raymond Rudd, a relative visiting at the McFaul home, rendered first aid. The injured man was rushed to Dr. Parkin's office in Marmora, and five stitches were required to close a gash in his head. He is confined to bed at his home.

Entered Into RestMRS. CHARLES JEFFREY

After an illness of four months, most of this period spent in hospital and nursing home, Mrs. Alice E. Jeffrey passed away at the Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday, June 25th, in her 75th year.

Mrs. Jeffrey was born in Rawdon Township, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Tanner. She married Charles Jeffrey and they farmed in Rawdon Township before going to Hungerford Township in the year 1932, when they purchased the "Clare Farm" on Highway No. 33, south of the Village of Tweed. Ten years later they moved to Tweed for their retirement years and their son, Kenneth, now operates the family farm. Her husband passed away suddenly at his home in Tweed on June 17th, 1955, which was a great blow to Mrs. Jeffrey and the entire family.

An ardent worker in lodge and church activities, she will be greatly missed in the Tweed community by both young and old. Only a short time ago she was presented with a life membership in the Woman's Auxiliary of St. James' Anglican Church, having served as its president for a long period. She had been a long-time member of Tweed Rehearsal Lodge No. 236, and had served as Noble Grand not many years ago.

She is survived by two sons and two daughters: Clarence Jeffrey, of Nanapanee; Mrs. Douglas (Effie) Eapley, Campbellford; Kenneth Jeffrey, Tweed, and Mrs. Graham C. (Marguerite) Mouck, of Stirling.

The funeral took place from her late residence, Catherine Street, Tweed, to St. Thomas Anglican Church, Rawdon Township, on Saturday afternoon.

Interment in St. Thomas Cemetery.

Passenger Train Often Travels Without Fares

The daily CNR passenger train that runs between Belleville and Lindsay often travels without passengers, S. Cooke, assistant superintendent said recently. He estimated the daily loss at about $130 and stated that the amount of baggage carried in a year "could be put in the trunk of a car."

CNR announced Wednesday that it may end the service because of heavy losses. Last year's deficit was $58,000.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

"The Bible — the world's best seller, but the most unread book in the world," is the manner in which some people speak of the Bible. The world situation appears to disprove such a statement.

Rev. Dr. W. J. Platt of the British and Foreign Bible Society in London writes, "Some of the overseas calls for Scriptures are most moving. Israel needs 25 percent more Bibles than the previous forecast. We recently supplied over 100,000 Bibles for the Yoruba people in Nigeria, and already we shall need to print again during 1958. France too, calls for more supplies than we had estimated. In Brazil, the circulation last year was over 1½ million Scriptures and over 7½ million during the last three years."

A translator, near Lake Chad, in the very heart of Africa, wrote to the Bible Society for Scriptures. When informed that he must wait, he replied: "Our present supply of Sango Scriptures is exhausted. We have opportunities now, such as we have never had and perhaps will never have again." Then, a few weeks ago, a telephone call was put through from Poland to say: "Warsaw stocks are exhausted. Please speed up the work." 1½ million Scriptures have been circulated in Poland in recent years.

Do It Now!

As seen through the eyes of those whose time is spent in handling the affairs of others, man's cardinal business sin is procrastination.

Recently, we took charge of the estate of a man who owned a large farm on a through highway near a thriving city. At one time it had been a very fine property but the buildings had been allowed to deteriorate beyond repair. Rain had poured through the roof of the house while for five years a large quantity of roofing material had been stacked nearby. A niece summed up the situation with the remark, "Uncle never did anything today that he could put off until next week."

Such experiences are not confined to the rural communities. It is easy to find one illustration after another showing that business men are often guilty of leaving undone those things that they ought to have done.

During the eleven years of its publication, the Canada Trust Bulletin has probably referred more often to subjects related to this particular business evil than to anything else. However, judging by the number of cases that come before us illustrating the harm wrought by procrastination, the reference has not been too frequent. It is perhaps closer to the rule than the exception that the average business man in his personal habits is inclined to put off dealing with such important matters as insurance of all types that should be reviewed, periodical medical examinations and the will that should be revised.

Immediate action will often avoid serious losses arising from procrastination. Do it now.

Doctors TellSummer Eating Rules

"Poor appetite in the summer and faulty eating habits may result from uncontrolled use of cold, high-calorie drinks or food, from failure to take adequate exercise, and from over-indulgence in between meal snacks," according to a report from the American Medical Association received at the Health League of Canada.

A procedure for avoiding these problems was outlined by Drs. Floyd A. Norman and Edward L. Pratt from the Department of Pediatrics — University of Texas Southwestern Medical School — in a special report on feeding children during hot weather, prepared for the American Medical Association Council on Foods and Nutrition.

They first pointed out that hot weather imposes no special dietary requirements for children. They need the same well-balanced diet they always need, along with extra water. They do not need additional quantities of salt. Only adults under "conditions of great physical activity associated with extremely large outputs of sweat" need sodium chloride tablets.

The doctors pointed out that it is unwise for adults to condition children to dislike hot weather or to foist summertime food fads on them.

Their rules for maintaining good nutrition and eating habits among children are:

The habit of vigorous outdoor activity should be continued or developed. Children do not mind hot weather unless they are conditioned to dislike it.

Cool, but not cold, drinks are best, and, for the most part, water should be used to quench thirst.

Between-meal foods and high-calorie drinks may have to be controlled.

A short "cooling-off" and quiet period before meals may increase the child's appetite.

Limiting of high-calorie foods, such as peanut butter and ice cream, may be necessary.

The large and better balanced meal may best be served in the evening when the temperature is lower.

All of the usual measures and guides for developing good eating habits should be continued, irrespective of the weather.

They noted that if infants and children eating well-balanced diets do not tolerate ordinary heat, they should be examined for illness rather than changing their diets.

TOUGH TREK THROUGH MOUNTAINS

To build mountain-top relay stations for the Trans-Canada Telephone System's microwave network to the West Coast, roads had to be cut through mountains, even above cloud level (upper left). At Hedley, B.C., a mountain top was blasted away to form a site (lower left). So high are many of the sites that buildings are often buried in snow (upper right).

Access roads couldn't be built at two sites — and aerial tramways were constructed. The Dog Mountain tramway (lower right) is one of the biggest in the world — more than two miles, with a lift of 4,400 feet. The microwave goes into full operation July 1st for television and phone system relays.

CONSERVATION NEWS

Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac Counties

The southern Townships of these Counties were settled at the end of the eighteenth and the beginning of the nineteenth centuries. At that time the greater amount of timber exported from Canada was obtained in what is now Quebec and on the Ottawa River. The export trade had not been developed on Lake Ontario. Timber in this region at that time was considered an enemy. It was cut and burned as quickly as possible so as the area could be farmed. Small mills were established for cutting lumber for local use. Settlement gradually spread northward from the shore of Lake Ontario; in 1850 25 miles of the southern ends of these counties (that are now outside the fire district) became fairly well settled and most of the land was privately owned. Timbered areas were left. This scattered district is now a comparatively prosperous agricultural district with scattered farms, wood lots and wooded swamps. The impression that the forest area was unlimited rendered the settlers careless; the idea of re-foresting and harvesting periodic crops was not then born in America. This area was principally hardwood with pine and other coniferous species in the minority.

About the beginning of the second half of the nineteenth century, due to the rapid growth in population in the Eastern United States and the diminishing supply in that country and also to Reciprocity between Canada and United States there was an enormous expansion of the timber industry in this region. There was a great demand for timber berths in the unsettled parts of the Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac; such companies as the Gilmour, Rathbun, Bronson, McLaren and Stewart obtained large licenses within these counties. Gilmour and Co. of Ottawa, established mills at Trenton and Ottawa, Rathbun established a mill at Mill Point, now Deseronto, and Bronson established a mill at Victoria Island in the Ottawa River. In 1853 this was the first mill in the Ottawa district which shipped lumber to the American market. The McLaren and Stewart companies operated on the Mississippi River; Gilmour operations were in the Counties of Hastings, Peterborough and Frontenac. The timber from the Hastings and Peterborough Limits was sawn at Trenton. The timber from the Frontenac Limits were driven down the Mississippi River to be sawn at Ottawa. The Rathbun Company operated in the Counties of Hastings, Frontenac and Lennox and Addington; in addition to their limits they purchased timber from private lands and held a large amount of timbered lands in fee simple. The Bronson Company operated in Northern Hastings at the headwaters of the Madawaska River. Enormous amounts of timber were removed from this area from 1860 until it reached its maximum about the year 1890; then the amount began to diminish and at the present day the amounts taken out of this area are comparatively small. The large operator has gone out of business; the small portable sawmill is being supplied by material which escaped the first logging and subsequent fires. Shantymen became settlers in this region but with the passing of the lumber industry they were forced to leave or eke out an existence on land which is not agricultural.

Mr. T. Southworth describing the four townships of Barrie, Clarendon, Miller and Abinger in 1898 writes: "The first settlement of any consequence in these townships took place in the early sixties, on the completion of what is known as the "Snow" or Addington Road. The few settlers previous to that were men engaged in lumbering, and who had built cabins and cleared a small piece of ground for the purpose of growing vegetables and oats. They were "Shantymen" rather than farmers, and it was not till the opening of the Colonization Road that any systematic attempt at farming was made.

"Lumbering, or rather square timber operations, had been carried on for some years previous to this, supplies for men being taken in by water."

Joe sat at his dying wife's bedside. Her voice was little more than a whisper.

"Joe darling," she breathed, "I've a confession to make before I go . . . I . . . I'm the one who took the $10,000 from your safe . . . I spent it on a fling with your best friend, Charles. And it was I who forced your private secretary to leave the city. And I'm the one who reported your income tax evasion to the government."

"That's all right dearest, don't give it a thought," answered Joe. "I'm the one who poisoned you."

Details of July 25th Hog Plebiscite Announced By Government

"Until the voter's list is prepared there is no exact count of the number of persons eligible to vote. It is estimated that there are about 40,000 commercial hog producers in the area. In addition there may be some other farmers who raise a small number of hogs, and who will appear on the voter's list. It is likely that 50,000 would cover the total," reports C. J. Boynton, Secretary of the Co-Op.

Each of the 350 townships in the counties concerned is considered a voting subdivision, and the township clerk will be deputy returning officer with the assessor acting as poll clerk. It will be their duty to prepare the voter's list. A preliminary list was prepared by June 1st and must be posted at least 14 days prior to the day of court of revision, July 4th. Township clerk and assessor will be sworn as court of revision, and will sit on July 4th to hear evidence and take affidavits.

Following the preparation of the revised list a final appeal may be made to the Farm Products Marketing Board at Queen's Park, Toronto, on July 14th, 15th and 16th. After this date there is no further appeal and no name may be added to the list on voting day. In the case of farms which are situated in a town or village, the owner's name should appear on the list for, and he must vote in, the surrounding township. A resident of a township must vote in the township in which he resides and cannot vote at any other place.

Polls will be open from 10.00 a.m. to 8.00 p.m. on voting day and there will only be one poll for a township, which will usually be in the township hall. Where there are over 350 voters in a township a second ballot box will be provided, but they will both be at the same place of voting.

The deputy returning officer and poll clerk will be paid by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Each side may have a scrutineer at the counting.

Any person who produces hogs on his farm is entitled to vote. In the case of a tenant, he and not the owner will have the right to vote if the business is conducted in his name. In the case of partnerships or corporations only one vote will be allowed per farm or per corporation. There will be no age or citizenship requirements for voting.

Following the final count of revision the Ontario Department of Agriculture will notify each person on the voter's list by mail, enclosing a copy of the market plan.

The entire operation of the association marketing agency is non profit, and democratically controlled by directors elected for one year terms. The Co-Op's 16 marketing yards provide means of assembling hogs, offering them to the buyer who will pay the highest price. None has ever been sold to other than the highest bidder.

All packers are now able to buy supplies equal to their ability to sell the produce.

"We are able to provide skilled and well informed salesmen," said C. J. Boynton, "to act for the individual producer. Since all are sold through one office the seller is in a much stronger position than individuals acting alone. When processors control deliveries by under-table payments to transporters the 10 percent of hogs reaching the open market could not influence the prices.

"For example: in the period 1949-52 Toronto averaged $1.49 over Winnipeg. During 1953-56 it averaged $3.04 above. During 1957 the difference between Ontario and Manitoba hogs was over $1.00 if you take into account the changes in buying procedure and shipping charges for most Manitoba hogs," said C. J. Boynton.

Hogs now move out of marketing yards to plants speedily with minimum of shrinkage. No hogs are held over week-ends. The Co-Op runs continual check tests on yield; if low it investigates and often gets compensating payment.

The Co-Op is confident of having a majority of producers behind it but must work to acquaint everyone with the plan and to get out the vote.

Sleepy Driver Highway Menace Doctors State

On modern highways, the sleepy driver is as much of a hazard as the drinking one.

This warning comes from the Medical Association, which adds that while dozing at the wheel is commonly associated with night-time driving, many "fatigue" accidents occur in broad daylight.

The following recommendations are issued by practical ways and means of guarding against drowsiness and alertness:

1. On long trips rest every two hours and have a cup of coffee to stay alert.
2. The night before you drive, refrain from taking a sleeping pill — or any medicine that may make you drowsy. Simply retire early.
3. Whenever you feel the least bit sleepy while driving, pull up and rest up. A nap may save your life!

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)
RECESSION OR SHAKE DOWN?

To the man out of work, we are having a recession. To the ordinary man, what is happening is a shake-down brought on by union demands.

Union leaders deliberately preach nonsense. They say that they ask bigger wages to increase purchasing power. They know higher wages mean higher prices — putting more men out of work, because consumers refuse to buy.

There is plenty of purchasing power in Canada. People are holding their money in the bank in protest against high prices. Those high prices are the result of high wages for poor or slow work.

I watched a basement excavation recently. Two men did the excavation, because it was a small job, an addition to a home. These men worked slowly. They loafed, to put it bluntly. They put the cost of that job up beyond reason. Fellows like that make the rest of us hesitate to buy a house or enlarge our old one. We know the price is bound to be high if men loaf on the job.

When prices of cars, homes and clothing get too high, people postpone their purchases. They drive the car another year; they put off enlarging the home; they wear that suit of clothes another season. When sales fall off, unemployment results. Those who have union jobs make very good money; but this doesn't help the man laid off.

I've been saying for the past five years that the unions, if they persist in boosting wages without working harder, would bring on a recession. That time has come. At least 80% of the blame for the present situation can be placed on the shoulders of union leaders in the United States. And when they have a recession down there, we suffer too.

Fortunately, rank and file workers in Canada see the truth. No longer do they believe everything union leaders say. Soon union members will demand more voice in what leaders do. Soon there will be secret balloting in unions. Soon Canadian workers will insist that Canadian union fees stay here in Canada, and that union decisions be made here. The union movement is due for a shake-down, and the leaders have brought it upon themselves.

Naturally, this does not apply to all unions. Some have shown good sense. As a result, their members are still at work, making reasonably good pay, because the prices of the products they turn out are competitive, and consumers still buy them. If the automotive workers and a few others had used similar good sense and restraint, we might never have needed this shake-down.

THE FOOD BASKET

USE PLENTIFUL VEAL IN MEAT LOAF

Reports from the Marketing Service of the Canada Department of Agriculture indicate that veal is the best buy in meats for June. If you are not accustomed to cooking this delicately flavoured meat you will be glad to know that specific instructions may be found in the Consumer Section book, "Meat, How to Buy — How to Cook," available at 50 cents per copy from the Queen's Printer, Ottawa.

Among the many suggestions and recipes for using various cuts of veal included in the Meat book, are Veal Paprika, Braised Veal and Jellied Veal and Pork Loaf ideal for summer salad plates. Since veal has very little fat it is sometimes combined with fatter meats as in these two recipes for meat loaf.

Veal, Beef And Pork Loaf

- 1 lb. minced veal
- 1 pound minced pork
- 1 pound minced beef
- 1 cup soft, stale bread crumbs
- 2-3 to 1 cup tomato juice
- 2 eggs, beaten
- Seasonings — salt, pepper.

Worcestershire sauce, chopped onion, parsley, celery and sage or thyme
Mix together thoroughly. Fill loaf pan (9"x5"x3") and bake 1½ to 1¾ hours in moderate oven, 350 degs. F. Cut into 16 to 20 slices and serve hot or cold.

Suitable Salad To Serve With Veal, Beef And Pork Loaf

- Side salad of lettuce wedge with radishes and green onions and Thousand Island or spicy French dressing.

Why The Printer Lost His Job

In a small Ontario town a few years ago, a farmer gave a printing office an order for some sale bills. The job was promised for June 30th. The day being set just before the long drought started the printer decided to take on a few parting drinks. After taking several he suddenly remembered the bills that were promised for delivery on that day, and he staggered to the office to get the job out.

The next day the farmer called for the bills, paid for them and took them home. Just before he started to put them up this is what he read when he came to the articles for sale:

Twenty-five cows, broke to work; 11 head cultivators, coming in soon; 10 head shovelling boards, with scoops on sides; 8 mares, piano style; 12 rods canvas belting, better than new; DeLaval cream separator, with ice cream attachment; McCormick binder said to be in foal; Poland-China bob-sleigh, due to farrow soon; 14 head chickens, with seed grass attachment in good working order; 15 billy goats, 70 bushel capacity; 2 Case riding heifers, good as new; spraying outfit, can be ridden by children; also many other articles too numerous to mention, which I intend to gather up at night between now and the time of sale.

On the prairies Alberta is the leading beef producing province. Alberta's big cattle ranching and meat packing industries got their start because of the need for food for the track-laying crews when the railways were going through the west.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE

Tuberculosis in Canadian cattle has been reduced to less than two-tenths of one per cent and will eventually be stamped out, Dr. A. E. Lewis, Associate Chief Veterinarian, Canada Department of Agriculture, told a Michigan State University conference on tuberculosis eradication June 17th.

First tuberculin tests were carried out in Canada about 1900 and incidence of the disease was recorded as high as 20 per cent in some areas. It has dropped to a low of 0.14 — the percentage of reactors uncovered during the last fiscal year.

"Although we encounter many problems," he said, "we are convinced that we will eventually eradicate the disease."

Dr. Lewis traced the history of Canada's fight against bovine tuberculosis to the first eradication plan, adopted in 1913 and known as the Supervised Herd Plan. Under it, owners could have an annual herd test without charge. Reactors were removed from the herd without compensation.

The Restricted Area Plan started in 1923 and all Canada came under it in 1952, at which time the supervised herd plan was discontinued.

In restricted areas, testing of all cattle is mandatory and reactors must be slaughtered immediately. When cattle with the disease are removed from a herd, the owner must clean and disinfect his premises. Then he receives compensation from the Federal government.

This Restricted Area plan provides for the controlled movement of cattle into an area, preventing the introduction of infected animals, Dr. Lewis explained.

The only other policy followed on a national level involves the Accredited Herd Plan. Strictly voluntary, it is open only to owners with a minimum of 10 pure bred cattle of one breed. Its standards are high "since the plan is intended only for bona fide breeders."

Full-time salaried veterinarians and practitioners are employed by the government to carry out periodical tests under both policies.

When reactors are found, owner sales and purchases over the past two years are studied. All herds from which reactor animals originate and all animals sold are submitted to a special re-test.

All animals undergoing tests are ear tagged, and reactors are identified with red tags in the left ear. Such tags have the word "reactor" on the upper side and such reactors are immediately ordered slaughtered.

Dr. Lewis said that in dealing with the export of cattle to the United States every precaution is taken to ensure that only animals free from tuberculosis are shipped.

YOU CAN'T KILL WEEDS WITH JUST KINDNESS

Most farmers do a pretty good job controlling weeds in corn and small grains, but sometimes take for granted the weeds in pasture, range and hay.

Yet those weeds cost money in more ways than one.

Weeds all together, cost the farmers of North America an estimated five and one-half billion dollars a year. That's equal to the combined losses from insects and disease. And it's second only to erosion as a dollar stealer.

On pasture and grazing lands alone the loss is put at more than a half billion dollars — or 9 percent of the total value of all grassland products.

Weeds cut forage yields by fantastic percentages, judging from tests made in various parts of the country by the Experimental Farms.

They also can mean direct money losses, such as losses due to off-flavoured milk caused by wild onion and garlic.

Weeds harbour insects and diseases which attack and destroy your forage crops.

Weeds compete for water, light and nutrients with your grasses and legumes.

Weeds, some of them, can be poisonous to livestock. Across the border, the U.S. Department of Agriculture figures poisonous plants cost farmers and ranchers there about ten and one half million dollars a year.

Recent reports, here and in the U.S., indicate such common weeds as lambquarter, pigweed, Canada thistle and goldenrod can cause abortion in cattle. It is "because" they store nitrates in their stems.

Weed control is mighty important to productive grassland management. Yet only a tiny percentage of all pastures and rangelands were sprayed with chemical weed killers last year, despite the fact that some records show spraying pays double over mowing when measured in extra grazing.

DESTROY VOLUNTEER POTATO PLANTS TO CONTROL LATE BLIGHT

Potato plants growing from piles of culls dumped from a storage, discarded seed potatoes, and even old potatoes and peelings thrown out by the housewife are a common source of late blight infection, states Professor C. B. Kelly, Botany Department, Ontario Agricultural College.

In Ontario the late blight fungus overwinters in potato tubers. It does not survive in the dead tops, as does the early-blight fungus, and it does not survive in the soil or in tubers killed by freezing temperatures.

The late blight fungus grows up into the stems and leaves that develop from blighted tubers. Spores produced there are carried away by wind. If they land on wet potato or tomato leaves they will germinate, and the fungus invades the leaves, causing a late blight infection. Spores produced on these blighted leaves cause infections on still other plants.

If the "volunteer" potato plants on cull piles are killed, this important source of late blight spores can be eliminated. Potato and tomato growers should search for such sources of infection and eradicate the plants before spread can occur, says the O.A.C. authority.

The plants may be killed with a potato top killer, a sodium chlorate base weed killer or heavy applications of Cyanamid. In municipal dumps they may be covered deeply with rubbish or burned. A second check should be made and further treatment applied if necessary.

FARMER'S MAGAZINE PRINTS LAST ISSUE

In an editorial preface to Farmer's Magazine, editor Gayle K. Honey informs readers that the June issue will be the last one issued under that name.

The magazine has been purchased by the publishers of Farmer's Advocate and Canadian Countryman, and the new publication will be known as the Farmer's Advocate.

In his editorial, Mr. Honey refers to the fact that the magazine was caught in a price cost squeeze, and "costs rose faster than revenue until we reached the point where it wasn't practical to carry on any longer."

It is the intention of the publishers of Farmer's Advocate and Canadian Countryman to retain the best editorial features of both magazines.

CRABGRASS IN LAWN CAN BE CONTROLLED

Crabgrass, or Finger Grass, is one of the most persistent weeds that invade lawns, appearing in late June or July and becoming more troublesome as the season advances, states the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario

Department of Agriculture.

The leaves of Crabgrass are short, broad and hairy. The smooth, branching stems and the seed heads, a group of 4 to 6 spikes arranged in a whorl around the top of the stem like the fingers, on a hand, are the most noticeable evidence of the weed, and as it nears maturity the whole plant turns a reddish-purple color. The stems are frequently prostrate and root at the joints, which together with prolific yields of seed, account for its rapid increase and difficult control.

Crabgrass is an annual and if seeding can be prevented the problem is greatly reduced as only dormant seeds or new introductions can perpetuate it. When cutting the seed heads off with a mower, the area should be raked first to make the heads stand erect. Clippings should be caught behind the mower and destroyed, preferably by composting. Wild white clover which forms a dense mat on the ground helps to retard the development of Crabgrass as do spring and fall fertilization and the seeding of thin and bare spots.

One practice to avoid is frequent light watering. The shallow-rooted Crabgrass benefits most by this treatment; the deeper-rooted lawn grasses get little if any benefit from it. Water only about once a week in dry weather and then do a thorough job so that the ground is wet down at least two inches.

A number of chemical products, when properly applied, give very effective control.

P.M.A. (Phenyl Mercuric Acetate) is one of these and should be applied according to the instructions on the label; the first treatment just as Crabgrass is emerging, followed by second and third treatments at ten-day intervals.

Potassium Cyanate is also very effective and should be used in preference to P.M.A. if the Crabgrass has headed out. A second treatment about two weeks later will be required. Potassium Cyanate should be used at the rate of 1 oz. in 3 gallons of water to treat 400 sq. feet. This treatment will cause some browning of lawn grasses, but will do no permanent harm.

AVOID TRACTOR UPSETS

Statistics have shown that in some farming areas more than half of the tractor accidents deaths have been caused by tractors overturning on their drivers. The Ontario Department of Agriculture urges farmers to keep the following rules of tractor operation in mind to avoid a dangerous overturning of the tractor:

1. Stay at a safe distance from ditch and creek banks which might cave in, and be very careful when driving along steep slopes.

2. Avoid excessive speeds. Speeds exceeding five miles an hour in field operations are dangerous, especially on stoney or rough ground. Slow down when crossing ditches, or when turning.

3. Keep the tractor controls in good condition, particularly the clutch and brakes.

4. Space the rear wheels out as far as tractor operations permit, in order to improve the stability of the tractor.

5. Don't try to drive up excessively steep grades.

6. Engage the clutch slowly when pulling out of ditches or up steep slopes.

7. If possible, lock brake pedals together when travelling in the road gear.

Because sudden stops, starts, and bumps are inevitable in farming operations, a great many accidents involve falls from the tractor. In many of the falls extra riders are involved. Extra riders should never be allowed on the tractor or the drawn implement. Children are particularly prone to accidents of this type. It is the responsibility of the driver of a tractor to see that children do not ride along in an insecure position.

Detailed information dealing with safe tractor operation is outlined in Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular 170, obtainable at the office of the Agricultural Representative.

Good habits need constant nursing. Every exception weakens a habit. That's why a good driver stops completely at a Stop sign, on deserted roads at dead of night . . . he is protecting the habit that protects him; says the Ontario Safety League.

IT'S MORE THAN JUST A GAME—The faces of these five pupils from Port Perry Public School reflect the interest they show in the Safety Game, distributed to over 800,000 Ontario school pupils by the Departments of Transport and Education this summer. Transport Minister, Dr. M. B. Dymond shows how the game works to (left to right) Elizabeth Willoughby, Jackie Fransen, Kathy Whitter, Norman Ballinger, and Eva Levack. Purpose of the game is to remind youngsters during the summer of the safety lessons they learned in school from their teachers.

Preliminary Certificate of Approval For Construction of Sewerage

Estimated Expenditure To Be $221,479.00—Boiler Inspector's Report Received

Preliminary approval for construction of a sanitary sewerage system and a sewage treatment lagoon to serve the Village of Stirling, at an estimated cost of two hundred and twenty-one thousand four hundred and seventy-nine dollars, was tabled from the Ontario Water Resources Commission at Monday night's meeting of the Village Council. Final approval hinges on the arrangements for the site of the sewage treatment lagoon.

Reeve J. V. Holt presided and was supported by Councillors K. Ray, W. L. Pollock and H. R. Tompkins.

Councillor Tompkins, chairman of the Property Committee, reported that no decision had been reached on the decoration of the Community Hall for Centennial. Mr. Bigham of the ABC Display Co. had presented a plan and price but had not been here to finalize the deal. This matter along with the purchase of chairs was left in the hands of the Property Committee.

T. A. Kerr, Building Inspector, addressed Council relative to a retaining wall which Ted Barnard wished to build along the front of his Victoria Street property. Members of Council viewed the site following Council meeting and approval was granted Mr. Barnard to build such a wall, providing he builds and maintains it and Council assumes no responsibility for it. A written agreement to this effect will be required before permission is granted.

Mr. Kerr also spoke of sewerage problems in the Village, stating he as Sanitary Inspector, had received complaints. He was advised to contact the M.O.H. and Board of Health.

Police Report

Chief of Police Sutherland presented his monthly report, which was accepted on motion of Councillors Tompkins and Ray.

Complaints have been lodged with the police over the indiscriminate use of firecrackers in the Village, in addition to the request from the Firemen's Mutual Aid Association for action to control their sale. Consequently Councillor W. L. Pollock gave notice that he would introduce a by-law to regulate their sale in the Village at next meeting of Council.

Councillor Ray gave notice that he will introduce a bylaw amending the Parking Bylaw at the next meeting of Council.

Clerk Mallory tabled correspondence from G. W. Nelson, School Inspector, stating the Minister of Education gives approval to the recommendations of the Assessors of Stirling, Rawdon and Sidney, under the provisions of subsection 1 of section 40 of the Public Schools Act. This was in regard to the apportionment of the costs of operating Stirling Public School.

The auditors' report on the road expenditures in 1957 was also tabled.

Boiler in Good Condition

The boiler inspector's report on the condition of the boiler in the Community Hall showed it to be in good condition.

Grants Received

The Clerk also reported that he had received a cheque for $1786.50 from the Department of Municipal Affairs covering the unconditional per capita tax, also one from the Department of Public Welfare for $828.63, as Stirling's share of Children's Aid grant. Help Appreciated

A written report was tabled from Councillor A. Packman, who is in hospital, concerning work done at the various parks. Clerk Mallory was instructed to write letters of thanks to Messrs. W. DeJong, R. K. West and members of Stirling Legion for their work at the War Memorial Park.

Reeve Holt drew the attention of Council to the fact that the CNR crossing on Edward St. was much narrower than the roadway and suggested the railway officials be asked Models Or What!

Following an afternoon planned around the theme of "Yesterdays," a group of women in full costume, paraded through the business section of the Village on Tuesday afternoon of this week. The spirit of the Centennial was very evident and much enthusiasm has been created. Those taking part in the fashion show included Mesdames W. C. Pitman, Albert Fraser, W. T. Elliott, Robert Hulm, R. D. Patterson, Robert Luery, Cecil Macklin, Harry Philp, Harold West, Claude Tucker and Roy Bush.

Let's have some more organization activity!

Fix Up And Paint Up

The slogan "Fix Up and Paint Up" is being put into practice in the business section of the Village. New store fronts have been installed by Cairns, Duffin's and X. P. Mayhew, while several properties including the Carpenter Block, Stirling News-Argus, H. C. Pitcher & Sons, Stirling Creamery and the Harlow Block have been brightened up with a fresh coat of paint.

Members of Stirling L.O.B.A. No. 655 and Stirling L.O.L. No. 110, attended divine service in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday at 11.00 a.m. Bro. Gordon Mitts and Sis. Pearl McGee acted as marshals of their respective lodges and Bro. Fred Bateman, Past Grand Master of Ontario East and Bro. R. Rupert, chaplain, read the lessons. Rev. Russell Gale, rector, delivered an inspiring address.

Purchase Centennial Registration Button Early

Following its meeting last Tuesday evening, the Stirling Centennial Committee announced a plan to ask all local and district residents to purchase a Centennial Registration Button prior to the start of the Centennial on August 3rd.

The Registration Buttons will be some three inches in diameter and will have a plastic window beneath which each person can insert their name. The Centennial colors of yellow and black have been used.

Those who purchase and wear a Registration Button will be admitted free to all Centennial events except the dances and professional wrestling. Chairman Don Rodgers pointed out that the purchase price of $1.00 would mean a considerable saving to the individual as opposed to paying separate admission charges for every event. The Chairman also stated that since the buttons were of solid construction they would be valuable souvenirs of Stirling's 100th birthday.

Mr. Rodgers added, that the window badges would provide for better fellowship and friendship through having one's name on the button for all to see.

The Centennial Chairman pointed out that by purchasing a Registration Button each and every resident would be doing his part in supporting the Centennial. Sale of the buttons will commence on or about July 19th. The members of the Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter, I.O.D.E., have generously offered to assist. The committee decided that all children under 14 years will be admitted free to almost all Centennial events.

S.S. Picnic

Members of St. Paul's Sunday School enjoyed a picnic at Bird's Beach, Oak Lake, on Friday, June 27th. Various races and contests were held for the boys and girls and everyone had plenty of good things to eat.

Appointed As District Guider

Mrs. R. Luery, formerly Captain Luery of the First Stirling Girl Guides, has recently been appointed as District Guider by District Commissioner Mrs. E. Kent. This is an annual appointment and Mrs. Luery has served faithfully as Guide Captain of the Stirling Company and will be well equipped to assist her Commissioner.

Mrs. Isobel Cornett will take over as Captain of the First Stirling Girl Guides and Mrs. Neva Cain will at her request remain First Lieutenant of the Company. It is hoped in the fall to start a Ranger Company; also in the fall Stirling will have two Brown Owl Packs, with the present Brown Owl Pio Fairies and Mrs. Frank Harding as Brown Owl of the second Pack.

Stirling has become very conscious of the Guide and Scout movement and can be justly proud of their achievements. Please assist them in any of their endeavours.

where there are 70 to 100 crippled children, may we suggest that you do so at your earliest convenience that you may see at first hand the work that is done there.

New Street Lights Installed

Stirling business section has its own "white way" since the completion of the installation of the new street lights this past week. About a year ago the Public Utilities installed three fluorescent luminaire lights on the four corners on a trial basis and they proved so satisfactory that the Council authorized the installation of twelve additional lights.

Suspended on twenty-five foot steel poles at the edge of the property line, the new lights take the place of the former steel standards at the curb, and provide a well lighted business section.

Ridge Road Community Has Farewell For Mrs. C. A. Wells, Teacher, And Mrs. H. Morrow, Music Teacher

On the evening of Friday, June 27th the pupils, former pupils and parents of S.S. No. 1, Rawdon, met at the Ridge Road School for a social evening.

Mr. Cecil Nelson acted as chairman and conducted a varied and delightful programme. Following the singing of the National Anthem, Grant Richardson led in community singing. After a few very appropriate remarks by the chairman, the school, accompanied by Mrs. H. Morrow, sang songs learned through the year. The Hammond girls and Lott sisters sang several delightful numbers accompanied by their guitars. Mrs. John McInroy gave a humorous reading, followed by an enjoyable solo by Miss Beverley McInroy. Grant and Marlene Richardson rendered a much appreciated duet.

Mrs. H. Morrow and Mrs. C. A. Wells were called to the front and Helen Cleveland read the following address:

Dear Mrs. Wells:

As you are about to leave our School Section, we are taking this opportunity to express our deep appreciation of the years you have spent with us.

During those years, some have passed into higher centres of learning, and, if they were here, would say that their success was due to the training they received in the Ridge Road School, in which you have been so efficient as a teacher. Not only have you been highly successful as a teacher but your life has been an inspiration to us for the higher things in life, that make up character.

We have not always been angels and now regret the pain we have caused.

Nine o'clock in the morning,

Lessons begin to start

We commence the day with a brainy mind

And end with a joyous heart.

Diction and geography,

Oh! such hard words to spell!

And Mississippi — where are you?

I really cannot tell.

And thus, we go from day to day, eager to become scholars and now, before closing, let me on behalf of the girls and boys thank you for all your patient guidance, understanding and kindness. And to show our appreciation of all this, we together with our parents and friends of the School Section, would like you to accept these gifts.

Judy Heath and Gary Reid presented Mrs. Wells with a beautiful set of necklace and earrings of aurora borealis and casserole combination.

Mrs. Richardson in a few well chosen words expressed the thanks of the community to Mrs. Morrow and Judy Heath presented her with a lovely set consisting of earrings and matching pin of aurora borealis.

Both Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Morrow thanked those present for their lovely gifts and kind words of remembrance, stating that it had been a pleasure to work with the Ridge Road pupils.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne, after which the ladies served a delicious and bountiful lunch.

Springbrook W.A.

The July meeting of Springbrook Woman's Association was held in the Church basement on Thursday afternoon, the 3rd. The hostesses were Mrs. Gerald Broadworth and Mrs. Percy Bateman.

Following a welcome to all by the President, Mrs. Carman Sine, the meeting opened with the W.A. motto, theme song, theme prayer and W.A. prayer.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Gerald Broadworth, the theme being "Times of Refreshing." The Scripture taken from Acts 3: 1-20 was read by Mrs. Percy Bateman. Psalm 95 was read in unison. A prayer for our Missionary, Miss Gould, was given by Mrs. Edward Huff.

The theme topic was read by Mrs. Ralph Wellman. The devotional period closed with a prayer.

The roll call, "A Bible Plant," was responded to by 27 members and one visitor. The members reported 49 cards sent and 17 calls made. Correspondence consisted of two thank yous. Mrs. Thomas Webb expressed her appreciation for cards and calls she had received. Mrs. Ralph Thompson reported for the June "Visiting Volunteers." The July "Volunteers" will be Mrs. Gordon Bailey and Mrs. Gordon Bateman.

A short business period followed consisting of reports from flower-fruit convener, Mrs. Fred McKeown, telling of one card being sent. Mrs.

Frank Coasey, treasurer, gave a financial summary of the pot-luck supper held on June 27th, showing a profit of $51.47. Mrs. Carman Sine, reporting for the Parsonage Committee, told of estimates received on work to be done. This will be held over until a later date.

The following programme was enjoyed: Topic, "Plants of the Bible," by Mrs. George Williams; music, by Linda Wellman, Muriel McMullen and Doreen Broadworth, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John McKeown; readings, Mrs. Thomas Webb and Mrs. John McKeown. Hastings County 4-H Cubs Visit St. Lawrence Seaway

On Saturday, June 27th, one hundred and thirty 4-H club members and leaders from Hastings County went on their annual bus trip. This year it was to see the St. Lawrence Seaway Project before the flooding on July 1st.

Leaving the county early on this bright sunny morning, the group travelled in four buses via Highway No. 7 to Perth and across to Kempenfelt Agricultural School where they were welcomed by Mr. R. G. O'Dell, Dean of Men at the school. After having a picnic lunch and a tour of the campus the group journeyed to Cornwall by way of Winchester. Many interesting sites were to be seen in the Cornwall area including the Old Canal in Cornwall, the new hydro power house, the control dams near Long Sault and Iroquois and the retaining wall near Long Sault which has been built to help confine the "man made lake." Travelling through the new towns of Ingleside and Long Sault revealed many new ideas in architecture and planning.

Returning by way of Kingston brought to an end a very successful and educational tour for the 4-H boys and girls of Hastings County.

The tour was under the direction of the Hastings County Club Leaders and the Ontario Department of Agriculture Staff, Sidney MacDonald, Agricultural Representative; Miss S. Thibodeau, Home Economist; and Clinton Nesbitt, Assistant Agricultural Representative.

Bancroft Tax Rate Down Somewhat

The 1958 mill rate for the Village of Bancroft has been struck at 83.6 mills for residential property and 91.4 mills for business properties.

Clerk-treasurer J. W. Gordon, says the rate is down somewhat from last year, due mainly to the higher percentage of the North Hastings High School tax assumed by Cardiff and Bicroft.

May Establish Hog Receiving Depot In Stirling

Deputy-Reeve Harold Varty, of Hungerford, Manager of Hastings County Hog Producers campaign, has announced that the choice of assembly points for hogs, should the new marketing plan be approved on July 25th, are strictly tentative. It is the general impression among hog producers, that shipments will have to be taken to Newburgh Sales Barn, Norwood, or Belleville.

According to Mr. Varty, nothing has been definitely settled regarding the assembly points.

After a conference with officials, Mr. Varty said he was pleased to be able to say that in all probability receiving yards for hogs may be established in Tweed, Stirling and Madoc. Of course, the vote to adopt the new Hog Producers' marketing plan must have the support of hog producers on July 25th, otherwise the present marketing system would continue. Under the plan, producers would have no alternative but to have their hogs delivered to the assembly points, established by the Association.

A campaign to acquaint farmers with all objectives of the marketing plan will be carried out previous to the vote through the daily and weekly papers and the radio station, Mr. Varty stated.

THE FOOD BASKET

GREEN PEAS PLAIN AND FANCY

Pump pods of peas are ripe and ready for your eating pleasure, so be sure to pick up some next time you go shopping. For six, 1-cup servings, you'll need to buy from 2 to 2½ pounds of peas in their pods. When you get them home, be sure to put the peas in a cool place. To save space in the refrigerator you can shell the peas immediately but do not wash them until just before cooking.

From Canada's Kitchen have come the latest cooking directions for peas and some very good suggestions for seasonings. Besides serving peas hot as a vegetable, combine them with other foods in casseroles and add cold cooked peas to potato, jellyed vegetable and tossed salads.

Cooking Directions

To 3 cups peas in saucepan, add 1 cup boiling water and 1½ teaspoons salt. Cover tightly and boil 5 to 7 minutes. Add 3 tablespoons butter and cook uncovered until peas are tender, 3 to 5 minutes.

To pressure cook 3 cups peas, measure ½ cup water into 2½ quart pressure saucepan, place peas on rack in pan and sprinkle with 1½ teaspoons salt. Cook at 15 pounds pressure for 15 seconds. Reduce pressure immediately by holding saucepan under a stream of cold water. Remove peas and add 3 tablespoons butter.

Seasonings

Add one of these to the cooking water for 3 cups peas:

½ teaspoon rosemary
½ to 1 teaspoon marjoram
5 to 6 broken sprigs mint
Or, add one of these to the cooked peas, along with the butter:
½ clove garlic (remove before serving)

½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ to 1 teaspoon savoury
1 to 2 tablespoons chopped onion plus 3 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Goldthorpe -- McGee
Nuptials Saturday

Pink and white peonies and roses formed a lovely background in St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, on Saturday, June 28th, at 2.00 p.m. for the pretty summer wedding of Eleanor Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGee, Harold, and Richard Stuart Goldthorpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goldthorpe, of Toronto. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell Gale, rector of the Church. White satin bows centred by a tiny rose designated the guest pews.

Miss Ruth Mumby, church organist, provided the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Heather Rodgers as she sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Till Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waist-length gown of white lace and net. A half pill box style headdress of nylon and seed pearls held her circular veil of tulle illusion with lace edging. She carried a white Prayer Book with red roses, white streamers and rosebuds.

She was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Allan Sine, as matron of honour, and Miss Joyce McGee, as bridesmaid, gownned alike in turquoise crystalettes. Both wore white flower headdresses, white accessories and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. Fred Goldthorpe, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Eugene McGee, brother of the bride and Mr. Donald Cartwright, cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the Parish Hall, which was tastefully decorated with flowers, streamers and bells. The bride's mother received the sixty-five guests, wearing a blue ensemble with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted in the receiving line by the bridegroom's mother, attired in a pink gown with pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table was appointed with white damask, centred by a three-tier wedding cake adorned in white and silver decorations flanked by silver candelabra and tall white candles. The bridal bouquets lent a pretty nuptial note.

For a wedding trip through Quebec and the New England States, the bride chose a navy chemise with white accessories and corsage of red roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Goldthorpe will reside at 1916 Avenue Rd., Toronto.

Guests were present from Brampton, Kirkfield, Toronto, Marmora, Stirling and Harold.

Previous to her marriage the bride was the honoured guest at two miscellaneous showers: given by Mrs. H. Goldthorpe at Willowdale, and at the home of Misses Lois and Marion Broadworth, Harold, with Miss Jean Mayo as co-hostess. At the Canadian Education Association, of which the bride is a member, the staff presented her with a beautiful painting and a vase of red roses.

Lyons -- Cooney
Nuptials At Bethel

Bethel United Church was the setting for a pretty June wedding on Saturday, June 28th, when Shirley Cooney became the bride of Edmund Hugh Lyons. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooney, of Stirling, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lyons, of Frankford.

Rev. C. E. Clarke, of Guelph, performed the ceremony and Miss Joan Campbell, of Belleville, played the wedding music. Mrs. Gerald Cherry sang "Wedding Prayer" and "Because." The Church was decorated with ferns and pink and white peonies while the guest pews were marked with yellow roses in white bays.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a story-book gown of silk jorganza enhanced with petit point lace flowers which were encircled with tiny seed pearls and sequins.

The bodice was of matching lace and the scalloped neckline was accented with tiny pearls and sequins. The full bouffant skirt was gathered to a princess waistline over three underskirts of tulle and taffeta. Tiny short sleeves were emphasized with elbow length petit-point lace gauntlets. Her crown headdress of matching lace, trimmed with tiny seed pearls and sequins, held her chapel length veil. She carried a white Bible crested with red roses and white satin streamers knotted with rosebuds.

Mrs. Don McKeown, of Foxboro, sister of the bride, was maid of honour and Miss Beverly Ray, of Stirling, Mrs. Douglas Consul, of Cobourg, and Miss Faye Cooney, of Stirling, were bridesmaids. They were identically gownned in white cotton lace with torso-length bodices adorned with scalloped neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and full skirts. Their headdresses of white net were trimmed with tiny sequins and a white taffeta ribbon formed a bow in the back. They carried cascades of red and white carnations.

Flower girl Miss Brenda Cooney, of Frankford, was gownned in white nylon with ruffles and short sleeves accented by white nylon gloves. She carried a basket of red roses and petals.

Francis Lyons, of Frankford, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Marvin and Norman Cooney, Stirling, and Douglas Consul, of Cobourg. Gary Cooney, of Trenton, was ring bearer.

For the reception in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Stirling, the bride's mother received wearing navy blue French lace with pale blue accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a navy green nylon dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride travelled to northern New York State and Quebec wearing orange ice sheath-crystalette dress, a matching duster, white accessories, and a corsage of gardenias.

Bethel Woman's Association were the caterers and the servers were Misses Linda Sine, Grace Clarke, Donna Ray, Beverly Cooney, Joy Cooney, Judy Cooney, Anna Mae Clarke, Marian Reid, Donald Heath, Jean Ann Mayhew, Barbara Hadley, Margaret Ray, Carol Ray and Gail Sine.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

The Bible, with its concept of God, man, and the Universe, has had a large part in bringing to birth a new nation — Ghana.

It is interesting to note that Christian missionary work there began in a Bible class and in a request for Bibles. Now a high proportion of the members of the Cabinet governing that country are Christian.

It is only 120 years ago that Thomas Birch Freeman, one of the missionary pioneers, first entered Kumasi. The people were fierce and warlike and their language had not been put in writing. It was a land where human sacrifices took place and the very name of the city "Kumasi" meant "the city of blood."

The country has now become the Dominion of Ghana and becomes a member of the Commonwealth of Nations.

During the year, the Bible Society has completed a New Testament in TWI, one of the languages of the people.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

ADVERTISING

The other day a merchant in a small town told his editor that he had decided to stop his advertising and save money.

The editor had an answer for him, a darn good answer.

"Okay," said the editor. "And while you are at it, why not stop your watch and save time?"

The merchant, fortunately got the point. He is advertising more heavily than ever, which means he is doing what is necessary to make money, rather than lose money. You don't save any money by stopping advertising any more than you save time by stopping your watch.

Of course, if you have a poor watch, you ought to change it. And if your advertising is not paying off, you ought to make it better. Too many merchants get less results than they should from their advertising because they give it so little of their attention.

Advertising ought to be prayed over. I've known merchants, with very little education, who could prepare an advertisement as well as or better than some of the experts on Madison Avenue. They do a lot of thinking about their customers, and what the customers would be looking for at each season.

When an advertisement appears, it is always wise to clip it and show it in the window of the store together with some of the items it talks about. This combination of advertisement and display has been making money for the big stores for the last twenty years. Why some of the smaller merchants neglect it, I cannot understand. Some retailers are merchants of apathy — not of products!

Retailers in small towns miss too many opportunities. Do you know, for example, that now-a-days the trend is for farm families to own a boat and outboard motor? They load them on a truck or trailer and hit for the nearest lake to bath and swim after a day in the fields. That's a trend in the states and it will come to Canada. Why let these farmers go to the city for such requirements? Many a local hardware could make good money selling boats and motors in Canada this summer, to farmers, if they'd stock up and advertise. Farmers, too, are going in for waterworks. Show them how, advertise pumps and motors, and tell them how little it costs — and you'll be pleasantly surprised.

I picked up a fine weekly paper just now, published in a good district in Southwestern Manitoba. Everything is good about it except the shortage of advertising, and the poor quality of advertising. I wish I could get the merchants of that town together in one place and I'm sure I could prove to them that they're a gold mine among them and they're not sinking the shaft. They've got a fine newspaper and they don't know it. Or else they are just not interested in making money.

CONSERVATION NEWS

ETIQUETTE FOR WOODS VISITORS

Do you set your friends' houses on fire when you go visiting? Of course not!

Yet 85 percent of fires in Ontario's forests, parks and recreational and camping areas are attributed to human causes, chiefly carelessness in the handling of fire in some form.

Campers who pack up and go home before their small camp fires are dead out can leave a smouldering ruin where once was a lovely vacation spot. Some who have left fires unattended for a short time have lost camp and belongings as well.

Motorists start fires by carelessly tossing lighted cigarettes out car windows. They can smoulder into flame in the underbrush and spread into surrounding forests when the offenders are miles away.

It is illegal to build fires in the forest fire area without a permit, except in the case of a small fire for cooking or warmth. Fireplaces are provided in provincial parks. Many travellers, with safety in mind, use patented stoves.

The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests appeals to the public to help protect the forests and playgrounds of the province as well as the wildlife whose home they are.

"Enjoy our forests — don't destroy them!"

NATURE PLAYS STRANGE PRANKS IN BUSHLANDS

Just as surely as dandelions arrive in the spring, so comes, from the Department of Lands and Forests, an annual compendium of strange happenings in Ontario's vast bushland. They usually involve bear, moose, deer, beaver, wolves and, in some cases, relatively new species of critters which have invaded the province.

For example, it now seems that there's a new high mark for wolf-throwing. For the uninitiated, it may be pointed out that the late Lynn Hollingsworth, Sault Ste. Marie, many years ago established the record for throwing a wolf 45 feet through the air when he grabbed the animal by the tail and dragged it from its lair.

Now, Paul Gauthier, of Rutter, is reported to have overtaken a timber wolf on the road and bumped it with his truck. The wolf bounty is $25.00. It looked like easy money. Mr. Gauthier leaped from the truck, grasped the wolf by the convenient handle and prepared to throw it into the vehicle. The wolf, merely stunned, recovered consciousness.

"After several unsuccessful attempts to throw the beast, our hero finally heaved him down the road and crashed him onto the gravel," the report states.

With slightly more scepticism, officers scrutinized a report of nuisance beaver from the Kemptville area.

A township reeve who had been told beaver would move to some other place if he placed a lighted lantern at each end of an affected culvert found the beaver had upset the lanterns, blown out the lights and covered the lanterns with mud from the side of the culvert. Which reminded one senior official of the Department that in a somewhat similar case the beaver did not blow out the lanterns; they simply moved them to a more strategic spot where they needed light to carry out a ticklish job.

A Letter To The Editor

THE ONTARIO HOG PRODUCERS' MARKETING AGENCY

The Government of Canada as well as the Legislature of Ontario have recognized that we as farmers have rights. They have provided the Company's Act for Industry, and Marketing Legislation for the farmer, which provides group action and gives strength and prestige.

The Ontario Hog Producers are using the provisions of the Farm Products Marketing Act to market their hogs. We must not remain an underprivileged people but measure up to our responsibilities and be fair to ourselves.

The people in industry have organized their marketing and have used every business technique to better market their goods. They have developed salesmanship to the last degree and use buying techniques which enable them to use force and influence when purchasing. We as farmers can do this also, through our Hog Producers Association. "The largest room in the world is the room for improvement." We have entered this room in many ways, improved production, mechanization, breeding, feeding and caring for livestock. Farming today involves big investment, large capital expenditures and modern methods of production. It is a business and must be operated on business principles in both production and marketing.

At the request of farmers, the Ontario Legislature provided us with legislation to enable us as a group to improve our methods of marketing, so why not use it? Remember, both our present and our future prosperity depend upon the use of this legislation.

The Ontario hog producer no longer may let prices be fixed and destroy the open market. We have developed and improved a modern marketing agency, controlled by the producer, to sell for the producer and conducted on a sound basic principle — hogs sold to the highest bidder.

Today the agency has modern means of communication to keep immediately informed of the movement and prices of hogs in each province and the U.S.A. There are sixteen open markets in Ontario; before the agency started, only one. Since organization in 1953 Ontario hogs averaged $2.76 per cwt. above Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton markets, resulting in 40 million dollars for the Ontario hog producers. Before organization the difference was only $1.00. The selling agency has been pioneered and widely accepted in Western Ontario with no pattern to work by, nevertheless, resulting in tremendous improvements in returns to producers and a larger share of the consumers' dollar spent for pork.

We cannot afford to have this programme interrupted by false and weak propaganda distributed by those who benefit from our unorganized marketing system in Hastings County. Support your Ontario Hog Producer Marketing Agency by voting YES on July 25th.

Ross Moorcroft,

Secretary-Treasurer

Hastings County Hog Producers

Taps Are For Turning Off

Taps on the brake pedal give warning flashes to the cars behind. Coupled with turn indicators and/or hand signals they give unmistakable indication to slow down and turn off the highway.

There is nothing in the law to require a motorist to give this additional warning. It is just a matter of common sense, courtesy and self protection.

A driver should make his turn off a busy highway with all reasonable speed. A leisurely turn can back up the line of traffic unnecessarily. But firm braking at the last moment may invite a rear-end collision if the car behind has not noticed, or has not believed the turn signal. Or the signal may have failed to show. That is why warning flashes of the stop light, operated by light taps on the brake pedal are always worth while when high speed traffic is following close behind.

Such signals are public evidence of a good driver. A driver who is thinking ahead, thinking behind, thinking to the side. A driver who wants to keep out of trouble himself, and wants to help the man behind do the same.

ANSWER THIS QUESTION!

Would you give your neighbour the returns that you receive for the milk from one of your cows, as breeding fees for your herd each year?

THAT WOULD BE ABOUT $300 TO $400

It's Not Likely You Would!

Then why not sell your herd sire today, and breed your cows artificially. At the most he is only saving you your service fees.

You can have the service of highly proven sires and highly selected young sires through the Holstein, Jersey, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Dual Purpose Shorthorn, Scotch Shorthorn and Hereford bulls available.

Service is available from bulls of all the common breeds of dairy and beef cattle. Each day you have a choice of several bulls.

Last year artificially sired cattle produced 24 pounds more butterfat than their stable mates sired through natural service.

That represents $24.00 more income to you, each year, for each cow!

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

HOG PLAN OPERATING AS USUAL WITHOUT CHANGE

"The Ontario hog producers marketing plan is continuing to operate as usual without any interruption or change," stated Charles W. McInnis, President of the Ontario Hog Producers' Co-operative in a statement issued after a special session of the Board of Directors of the Co-operative.

According to Mr. McInnis, the recent decision of Mr. Justice Ferguson, which suggested the plan was not valid, will have no effect on the holding of the plebiscite of hog producers planned for July 25th.

"This decision of Mr. Justice Ferguson," stated Mr. McInnis, "was made under provisions in the Farm Products Marketing Act of Ontario which was in effect in 1957.

"However, these provisions were amended by the Ontario legislature at its last session and the amendments became law this spring on March 27th, 1953. The defects in the Ontario hog producers marketing plan found in the decision of Mr. Justice Ferguson can readily be corrected under the recent amendments to the Farm Products Marketing Act."

PRIZES ESTABLISHED FOR PASTURE IMPROVEMENT

With twenty Counties and two Northern Ontario districts entered in the Ontario Pasture Improvement Contest, a total of over 400 entries, the committee has announced the division of prize money — $500 made available by the sponsor, the Canadian Seed Trade Association.

Champion — Trophy valued at $100 plus $125 in cash
Reserve — $115
Third — $90
Fourth — $70

This ensures that every regional winner in each of the four regions will share in the honor of being a prize winner in the first Ontario Pasture Contest.

The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture reports that the first judging has been completed, and following the second visit about September 1st, county winners will be established. Immediately after September 15th, regional judges will visit each county winner and determine the four regional winners. By approximately October 1st, provincial judges will determine from this group the Provincial Champion, Reserve, and third and fourth placings in the provincial contest.

This new type of contest for Ontario includes the complete pasture programme; long term pastures, supplementary pastures, and the use made of hay aftermath. Management, including controlled grazing, fertility, and weed control is stressed. The comfort of the cow as well as her nutrition is taken into account with points allotted for access to shade and water in each field.

The per acre cash returns from prize winning pasture is far greater than any prize money involved, and this provides the greatest incentive toward pasture improvement.

LEAD POISON COMMON AS A CATTLE POISON

During the summer pasture season there are many types of poisons which may affect cattle, and not all these poisons are caused by plants. According to the Ontario Veterinary College, lead in its various forms is one of the most common cattle poisons.

Cattle that are suffering from chronic lead poisoning frequently show weakness and a stiffness of the joints. In the acute form, lead poisoning may result in a chomping of the jaws, trembling, a tendency to walk in circles, and even blindness.

Good tidy pastures and barnyards can do much to prevent lead poisoning. Old paint cans, discarded car batteries and lead arsenic sprays are some of the common sources of lead poisoning in cattle.

Farmers are warned that a cow suffering from rabies may show symptoms very similar to lead poisoning. A veterinarian should be consulted for diagnosis and treatment.

WILD CARROT A NOXIOUS WEED

Wild Carrot with its large lacy white flowers and fern-like leaves is a common sight along roadsides, in pastures, parks or meadows; is often called "Queen Anne's Lace" and can be quite attractive for a brief period during midsummer. The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture warns however, that it is a noxious weed in Ontario and steps should be taken to eliminate it.

Wild Carrot is properly a biennial plant, producing only leaves the first year, flowers and seeds in the second year; but annual types which set seed the first year have been found as well as a few short lived perennials. In appearance the leaves resemble the garden variety of carrot both in appearance and odor. The tap root also has an odor similar to the garden carrot but is white in color rather than orange. The flowers, which are borne on stems two to three feet high, become a tightly folded "bird's nest" when the fruit is developing and are quite unsightly at this stage. The plant is unpalatable in hay or pasture and its most extensive damage usually occurs in these crops. It is also host plant to the carrot rust fly and cannot be tolerated in the vicinity of carrots, parsnips, celery or parsley.

Badly infested meadows and pastures should be broken and cropped before reseeding, if possible. Road-sides and unworkable fields should be sprayed in June with 2,4-D at the rate of 16 oz. of acid per acre to prevent the setting of seed in the second year plants, and in September to eliminate seedling plants which would become seed producers the next year. Some strains of wild carrot are resistant to 2,4-D but these can be controlled by spraying with 2,4-D — 2,4,5-T mixture at a rate which will give 8 oz. of 2,4,5-T per acre. The Field Crops Branch warns that 2,4-D spray and vapor must be kept off fruit, vegetables, turnips, tobacco, ornamental trees and shrubs.

NEW DIVISION

Amalgamation of the Animal Husbandry and Poultry Husbandry Divisions of the Experimental Farms Service to form a new division has been announced by the Canada Department of Agriculture.

It will be known as the Animal and Poultry Science Division.

Research work with both animals and poultry will be enhanced by the step, officials said, since it concentrates the efforts of staff assigned to problems in breeding, nutrition and physiology.

Dr. Karl Rasmussen, former chief of the Animal Husbandry Division, has been appointed acting chief of the Animal and Poultry Science Division.

VEAL PRODUCTION

Tests to determine the effect on veal production of crossing beef bulls with dairy cows are currently underway at the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa. Shorthorn, Holstein and Shorthorn x Holstein bull calves are being compared.

To date, Holsteins have been the heaviest at birth and the first to market. Crossbreds have been intermediate between Shorthorns and Holsteins.

Calves are purchased prior to five days of age from district farmers, half-fed whole milk at approximately fifteen per cent of body weight and are offered a limited amount of calf starter ration.

All calves are fed to 210 pounds, slaughtered, and government grades obtained on the carcasses. Complete carcass and cut-out data are secured on all calves as they are marketed through a local retail outlet.

4-H Potato Club Meeting

The second meeting of the South Hastings 4-H Potato Club was held on July 2nd at the Agricultural Office, Stirling. The meeting opened with the roll call followed by the pledge. It was decided that the next meeting would be held on July 23rd.

The meeting was turned over to Mr. Nesbitt, who gave a talk on "Potato Insects and Diseases." Mr. Ross Bateman gave a talk on "Summer Cultivation."

At the previous meeting the officers were elected as follows: President, Ronald Heath; Vice-President, Allan Hamilton; Secretary, Isabella Sager; Press Reporter, Dorothy Brooks.

United Empire Loyalist Assoc. Enjoy Picnic

The Dominion Day gathering of United Empire Loyalists descendants and friends for a social afternoon meeting of old acquaintances and many new ones proved even more enjoyable than anticipated Tuesday at the Bay of Quinte U.E.L. Park at Adolphustown.

Met and welcomed by Lt. Col. Wm. A. Davern, the President of Bay of Quinte Branch U.E.L. Association, were many folks from Toronto, Peterborough, Madoc, Stirling, Ottawa, Kingston and intervening points. During a very brief informal meeting, the President expressed pleasure on the fine turnout, despite the many counter holiday attractions. He was pleased to introduce Mr. Ronald Way, local supervisor of the Ontario St. Lawrence Development Commission, which under the direction of the Hon. George H. Challies, has now assumed charge of this beautiful park.

Mr. Way reported the Commission plans to develop this historic spot where 174 years ago a group of four hundred Loyalist refugees landed and initiated the building of what has become Canada's banner Province, Ontario, into one of the most interesting spots on the Bay of Quinte. Particular attention is planned for the maintenance and beautification of the pioneer burying ground which was restored and re-dedicated in June 1956, by a small group of U.E.L. members headed by the late Mrs. R. S. McLaughlin, of Oshawa.

The young folks sports programme, prepared and directed by Allan Dempsey, of Rednersville, and ably assisted by Mrs. Dempsey, Woodrow Blakeley and President Davern and many other volunteers, provided a number of events bringing out keen competition for the interesting prizes.

The next meeting of the Bay of Quinte Branch U.E.L. will be held at Adolphustown, on Wednesday evening, September 3rd, at which time there will be a goodly number of applications for membership submitted for approval and acceptance.

"Thou shalt not kill" is a law of God, and a law of Society. "But I had the right-of-way" can never be a valid answer, emphasized the Ontario Safety League.

Old Fashioned Costumes Feature W.A. Meeting At Mrs. W. T. Elliott's

St. Paul's Woman's Association held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. W. T. Elliott on Tuesday with a large attendance.

In keeping with the Centennial Programme, Mrs. Elliott received her guests in a lovely long white lace gown, trimmed with black velvet.

Mrs. R. A. Patterson, President, opened the meeting with the theme hymn and prayer and graciously welcomed all who came. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Albert Fraser, convener of the programme, who was very charming in her costume of navy silk with full skirt, a long gold chain and watch and black picture hat. The devotional opened by singing the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The Scripture Lesson was read by Mrs. Robt. Luery, who wore a two piece white costume and black picture hat with big mauve bow. Mrs. A. Fraser then offered prayer.

Mrs. Roy Bush in her costume and lovely black shawl, was then called on to give two readings entitled, "The Old Rocking Chair" and "My Mother's Arm Chair," which were read to Mrs. W. C. Pitman who acted the part of "Grandma" in her lovely long black lace gown, adorned by a gold chain and watch, comfortably seated in a little low rocking chair.

Mrs. C. Macklin and Mrs. H. Philip favoured the group with a duet, "The Church By The Side of the Road." Their long gowns were of rose and green, frilly trimmed taffeta and were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. H. West in a lovely red lace trimmed taffeta dress.

Mrs. M. Rutherford Guest Speaker

Mrs. W. T. Elliott very capably introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Fred Rutherford, of Campbellford, who chose as her topic, "Pioneer Life Past and Present," which added much to this Centennial programme.

Mrs. A. Fraser thanked Mrs. Rutherford for the time she had given in preparing and presenting this talk which the members deeply appreciated.

A reading entitled, "Yesterday and Today" was well given by Mrs. Robt. Hulin in a long white gown and pert little hat. Mrs. C. Macklin and Mrs. H. Philip sang as a closing number, "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

All those on the programme, assisted by Mrs. C. Tucker and Mrs. D. Patterson, both in appropriate costumes, served a delicious lunch of old fashioned cookies, Johnny cake and tea, for which Mrs. A. Brooks, on behalf of the W.A., expressed thanks.

Pictures were taken of the group in costume and a parade down Front St. brought the delightful afternoon to a close.

Annual Rotary Fair and Street Dance Proved Most Successful

Lucky Ticket On Trailer, Motor And Boat Held By Moe Benoit, of Belleville

Success crowned the efforts of President Carl Bateman and his fellow Rotarians at the Rotary Street Fair and Dance held on Mill Street Monday night. The street was made ready during the afternoon and conditions were ideal for this annual event. The net proceeds amounted to several hundred dollars, which will be used for the Club's crippled children's work and other benevolent activities.

A Bingo game did a thriving business, while a shooting gallery, fish pond, ring-the-duck and refreshment booths were well patronized by the large crowd. Music for dancing, round and square, was provided by Hugo Diggins, and his orchestra, while Uncle Jimmie Mitts acted as caller.

Prize Winners

The holder of the lucky ticket on the Islander Boat, 10 h.p. motor and trailer, valued at $1200.00, was won by Moe Benoit, star defenceman of the Belleville MacFarland's, Allan Cup Champions.

Mrs. Wm. Brown, of Stirling, held the lucky ticket on the piece of luggage on which Bob Patterson sold the tickets.

The officers and members of the Rotary Club are deeply grateful for the generous patronage of the citizens of Stirling and the surrounding community.

Lists Corrected

The mailing lists of the News-Argus have been corrected up to date and subscribers are asked to check their labels. In case of an error notify this office at once and the necessary correction will be made. Subscribers arrears are asked to bring their subscriptions up to date.

Horticultural Notes

The July meeting of the Stirling Horticultural Society was held in the Agricultural Office Thursday night, July 10th. A good number of members and visitors were present to view the pictures of the "Tulip Festival" held in Ottawa on May 24th. Mrs. R. A. Patterson operated the projector and showed pictures she had taken; also those of Mrs. P. Bronson and Mrs. C. Bateman. Altogether there was a very fine collection.

The business part of the meeting was planning for the members to serve afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. W. T. Elliott during the Centennial. A committee was named to make final arrangements.

The next meeting will be in the form of a garden tour.

Mrs. Don Rodgers Hostess To St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S.

The July meeting of St. Andrew's Woman's Missionary Society was held at the summer home of Mrs. Don Rodgers on the Trent River with a good attendance. The hostess was assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Walter Rodgers, Mrs. Roy Eggleton, Mrs. Eva McGee and Mrs. Harper Rollins.

The President, Mrs. E. Foster, welcomed all present. She read an opening thought on "Faith, Hope and Charity," charity being the keyword for the meeting. After the singing of a hymn, Mrs. W. L. Anderson read the Scripture Lesson, I Cor. 13, on Faith, Hope and Charity, commenting on charity, she stated that an act to show charity does not always begin at home. Mrs. Duncan Montgomery led in prayer.

Roll call was taken which showed several children and one visitor present.

Mrs. Roy Eggleton took charge of the meeting. Several children took part in the programme. Little Misses Ellen Jane Rodgers and Vickie Hay each gave an appropriate reading which contained advice to all.

A lovely play, "A Story of the Bible," was portrayed by the follow-

Stirling Juveniles defeated Bethel in a loosely played softball game at the Recreation Field on Monday night by a score of 20-19. Denton Shortt was on the hill for the locals with Gary Wright behind the plate, while Dale Geen and Norman Cooney formed the battery for the visitors.

Ball fans of this Village and district are urged to turn out and lend their support to these younger players. The Recreation Council have provided the facilities for night ball and are hoping that sufficient interest will be shown to warrant the work and expense involved.

Members of the Stirling team are D. Shortt, p; Gary Wright, c; Barry Hewton, 1b; Elliott Martin, 2b; Ed. Mayhew, ss; M. Long, 3b; Bob Noble, lf; Al Flewis, cf; David Bell, rf; spares, D. McCrory and Allan MacConnell.

Mrs. Roy Eggleton and Mrs. Don Rodgers thanked all for their help. Repeating the benediction closed this interesting meeting.

MRS. W. PERCY JACKMAN

A resident of Peterborough for one year, Mrs. William Percy Jackman, 63, of 797 Water St., died suddenly on Friday at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Hay, 691 Elcombe Cres.

Born and educated at Harold, the former Bessie Elizabeth Bailey, she was a daughter of the late Richard Bailey and Alice Lloyd. Her husband died several years ago.

Mrs. Jackman lived all of her life in Harold before moving to Peterborough.

She leaves a son, Gerald, of Ida; a daughter, Mrs. Melville (Allen) Andrus, of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. J. W. (Mollie) Hay, of Peterborough, and Mrs. D. N. (Kathleen) Buntain, of Crescena, Calif., and nine grandchildren.

The pallbearers, all neighbours at Wellman's Corners, were: Walter Scott, Carman Nix, George Watson, Claude Tucker, William Drewry and John Rainie.

Marsh Hill W.M.S.

The July meeting of Marsh Hill W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Grace Bartindale with 10 members present.

The President, Mrs. L. Finkle, opened the meeting with a reading, "On Keeping Dominion Day." What a wonderful heritage we have had, handed to us. Are we keeping it safe to be handed on undiminished to our children? The best way to celebrate Dominion Day is to pledge our love and service to Him who is yet to have "dominion from sea to sea" and to get out to life gift about by His love and faithfulness. He is the best Canadian, who is the best Christian. This was followed by prayer.

The members reported sending 22 cards and making one house call. A letter was read from Mrs. J. D. Baxter, Candidate Secretary of Belleville Presbyterian, stating the need of Home Mission Workers and also for Overseas Service. Mrs. Bartindale, Literature Secretary, passed out several pamphlets on Bible readings.

Mrs. Frank Finkle, Stewardship Secretary, gave a reading, "Dig Deeper." Mrs. Walter Lindenfield, Temperance Secretary, gave some facts on Temperance.

The members were told that a bale valued at $95.00 had been sent by Mrs. David Hollinger, Supply Secretary.

Mrs. Farley Lindenfield was in charge of the worship service, the theme being, "The Bible and Prayer" and was assisted by Mrs. Walter Lindenfield, Mrs. Leslie Little and Mrs. Harold Detlor.

Mrs. Bartindale presided over the programme and read the hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," as an opening prayer. Mrs. Leslie Little read, "The Need." "How To Defend the Bible," was read by Mrs. Bartindale. Mrs. Harold Detlor read, "Prayer," giving the ten commandments of prayer.

Mrs. Bartindale gave a paper on "How to Read the Bible." Read a portion of the Bible every day. Remember God is speaking to you as you read. Mrs. Bartindale closed with two readings, "The Bible Like Unto A Magnificent Palace" and "Lo I Am With You Always."

After the benediction the hostess assisted by Mrs. Farley Lindenfield and Mrs. Leslie Little served refreshments.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

I received so many messages, letters, cards and visits while I was in hospital that it is going to be very difficult to reply to them all individually.

I am particularly grateful to my neighbours for their many messages and flowers and to members of other churches who thought of me at that time. It was most kindly, and I feel that one could not have been shown greater kindness anywhere outside of Stirling.

To all, including St. Paul's and Carmel Woman's Associations, River Valley W.A. and Stirling Legion and my own Official Board, I would say "Thank You."

I am hopeful of taking part in the services on Sunday next, July 20th. However, Mr. J. L. Good has very kindly undertaken the duties at Carmel and will conduct the service there at 9:45 a.m.

August 3rd is a very important day for the Village and for St. Paul's when the Honourable Sidney E. Smith, P.C., Secretary of State for External Affairs, will give the address.

Bath Enjoys Great Boom

Bath is a village which is in the heart of some of the most rapidly expanding development in Ontario. It is near the new Canadian Industries Ltd. Terylene plant, a CIL ammonia plant, a Liquifuels centre, new housing developments and reported additional industry.

Bath is also the proposed site of a new district high school.

The village covers 1,154 acres, much of which is still farmland. It has a population of over 600 and this is expected to grow, in a village that has lots of room for expansion. The Bay of Quinte forms the southern border and the Township of Ernestown circles it on its other three sides.

In the village is the home of Mrs. W. H. Gutzelt, one of the first homes built in Upper Canada.

Reeve of Bath is Ronald Green. The clerk-treasurer is Mrs. A. Holliday.

A Letter To The Editor

18 Boughton Ave.
Hays, Kent, England

Dear Sir:

I noted with interest the article on page eight, headed, "Stirling Centennial, August 3rd to 6th, 1958 'Do You Know That . . .'" The newspaper came out on June 12th.

It is very nice to know that some people are interested in things of beauty still. In this atomic age when all is rush and hurry a quiet spot of beauty is much appreciated by many who otherwise would have no place for quiet reflection. In England too we have our quiet parks and open spaces in big cities. They are much loved and used by old and young alike. Thanks be to far-sighted forebearers for these lovely things.

Mrs. Joan K. Thompson

Lightning Bolt Strikes, Burns Holloway Barn

A heavy bolt of lightning coming just at the outset of Thursday night's severe electrical and rain storm which swept over the district, struck and burned the frame barn of Alvie Reid, Holloway.

Lost along with the medium sized barn was about 50 tons of newly harvested hay.

Belleville firemen were successful in saving a nearby small barn used as a driveway. The Reid house, situated to the north of the barn, was not endangered.

This is the third time in as many years when severe trouble has been experienced by the Reid family.

About three years ago a daughter was fatally injured in an auto accident near Melrose, while a year ago a son was struck and killed by a car near his home on the Madoc road as he rode his bicycle home from ball practice.

C.N.R. May Add To Truck Fleet

The CNR may go in for operating truck services to a greater extent than now, President Donald Gordon said Monday.

Up to the present, Mr. Gordon said the CNR has "not been too sold" on the idea that it can make money on truck operations.

"But our views are changing and we may go in for more. How soon and how much has to be determined."

50 Years Wed

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Atkinson, of Campbellford, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last week. Friends and neighbours and members of their family tendered them a reception at Petherick's Corners. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson each were presented with wrist watches.

"Yes, Doctor...Wednesday will be fine!"

When it's time to have the dentist check daughter's teeth, Mrs. Smith naturally reaches for the telephone, that helpful "member-of-the-family" with the habit of getting things done.

When you look back over your day, it's sometimes surprising to realize in just how many little ways the telephone has helped you... how it adds so much convenience and comfort to everyday living.

Former Resident Arthur H. Shore, Uranium Pioneer, Dies At North Bay

Arthur H. Shore, 65, the prospector who discovered the rich uranium ore deposit in the Bancroft area which is now Faraday Uranium Mines, died Thursday night at the Trout Creek Nursing Home, where he had been a patient for a week. Besides discovering the Faraday deposit, Mr. Shore had been a director of the company, which was organized in June 22nd, 1949, with the mine coming into production on April 4th, 1957.

The late Mr. Shore was born near Campbellford, where he spent his childhood, then moving to Eldorado. He was employed at Deloro, as a foreman in the cyanide department, before going to Cobalt during the boom days there. It was in Cobalt that he first became interested in prospecting, but after leaving that area he resided in Stirling for several years. He was employed as a cheese box maker here first by John Marshall and later by the Munro Bros. Later he moved to Bancroft and made the uranium discovery in 1949.

Ten years ago Mr. Shore was predeceased by his wife, the former Mabel Hagerman, of Madoc. One son and two daughters also predeceased him. Surviving are five children and 14 grandchildren. There are two sons: Ross, of Burks Falls, and Donald, of Belleville, and three daughters, Mrs. M. (Thelma) Scrimshaw, in Michigan; Mrs. J. (Marney) Pilo, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Mrs. R. (Gwendolin) Morris, of Port Credit.

Rural Clergy To Hold Course At O.A.C., Guelph

The ninth annual School for Rural Clergy will be held again at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on July 21st to 25th. One hundred and fifty ministers from rural parishes attended the undenominational school last year and at least this many are expected to enrol again, many bringing their wives and families with them. The course is designed to provide a pleasant and stimulating atmosphere for discussion of the problems of the town and country church, and of the rural community. It is hoped that those attending will obtain a greater knowledge of the basic principles of agriculture in relation to human welfare, community life, and the work of the church. Courses will be offered in rural sociology and soils and land use. The course in rural sociology will emphasize economical changes and their effect on rural living values, while the soils and land use course will feature studies of soil conservation, efficient farm practices, and field trips for first-hand studies.

Salem W.A.

The July meeting of Salem W.A. was held in the Church Hall in the afternoon. The President, Mrs. Murray Johnston, opened the meeting with the theme song and theme prayer and a verse. Hymn 605 was sung.

Roll call was donations for the Hoard's Sale on August 11th. There were 21 members, one visitor and several children in attendance. Mrs. Lorne Hagerman gave a report on the sale at Hoard's which was very good. Two letters of appreciation were also read.

Mrs. J. B. Hagerman took charge of the programme. She read a verse, "Recipe For A Home." All sang hymn 249. Mrs. Mowatt Sine read the Scripture Lesson, Acts 3: 1-20. The meditation was taken by Mrs. W. J. Johnston, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Wm. Wright. A duet was enjoyed by Marlene Holden and Judy Wickens, "Glory To God for the Sunshine Is Free." A reading was given by Mrs. Ivan Sarles, followed by an instrumental numbers by Jane Clements. Mrs. Stan Thompson gave a reading, "Judge Not." The topic was given by Mrs. Frank McGee on "Diligence."

Mrs. Bert Sine thanked the hostess, Mrs. Stan Thompson and her assistants for the successful afternoon spent together. Hymn 308 was sung and all repeated the benediction.

Warn Against Bad Cheques

A warning has been issued against two bad cheque artists who passed seven or eight bad cheques in Peterborough recently.

Two men posing as tourists and offering printed forged cheques drawn on the Bank of Montreal and purporting to be issued by the Canada Dry Bottling Works of London, cashed cheques in amounts ranging from $70 to $90.

Serial numbers on the cheques appear as No. 3234 and No. 3235. One man signs himself J. W. Hunter. Merchants have been warned to be on the lookout for the two men.

Hon. Goodfellow Will Open Belleville Fair

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, will officially open Belleville Fair on August 11th. Considerable improvements have been made to the grounds in preparation for the 4-day event. The grandstand show will feature the famous dog, Rin Tin Tin, on the opening day, with variety acts contracted for on the succeeding days.

Not "People" It's Pickeral

This is a perfect example of how facts can get distorted by one person's misinterpretation, and falsification can spread as quickly as dust on a windy day. The Kingston Whig-Standard was deluged with enquiries on a "catastrophe" in Trenton, which was supposed to have taken the lives of 6,000 people from polluted river water. The paper, after calls kept coming in, decided to get the facts. The six thousand toll was correct, but it happened to be "pickeral" — not people. This should warn those who have nothing else to do but spread rumours. As the saying goes, "It's easier to use your tongue than your head."

What Others Say I

VACATION WARNING

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

Many householders quite unintentionally, invite burglars to ransack their homes while they are away on vacation.

They don't actually leave a printed notice saying they won't be at home for two weeks — but other telltale signs proclaim this fact just as obviously.

If the house is in constant darkness with the mail and newspapers piled at the front door, it can mean only two things — the residents are either away or dead!

CIVIL SERVICE PURGE?

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

There are signs of activity at last in a purge of the civil service of those employees who are not pulling their weight and who have come to look upon government employment as permanent security with a minimum of work.

This applies as much to the bureaucratic "brass" as to the man or woman holding down a job as a patronage favor from the previous government administration at Ottawa.

The public has had a questioning eye on Ottawa for some years now.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

Imagine the surprise for a missionary arriving at his station in Africa to find a church building had already been erected and Christians had been at worship some ten years before he arrived.

Dr. W. J. Platt of the British and Foreign Bible Society said: "When first I personally visited the Adjurkra tribe I found that dozens of small churches had already been built before the arrival of any missionary. In many of them were English Bibles they had bought in local stores — but few, if any, of the folk could read them. Amongst the Aviam tribe I found one large church, built under orders of the Chief, toward which every member of the community had had to contribute. For ten years they had awaited the coming of the missionaries. Now the Gospel of Christ is available in their own mother tongue.

This year a Gospel of St. John in Adjurkra, and St. Mark in Avikam, has been made available.

Licence Leads To Arrest Near Havelock

A Havelock man was charged Saturday night with criminal negligence and careless driving in connection with the highway accident that killed two Queen's University students on Friday afternoon, six miles east of Havelock.

Wilfred Redcliffe, 40, of R.R. 3, Havelock, was remanded on $5,000 bail to Monday.

Police said that the students' car turned out as another car made a left turn onto Highway No. 7. The students' car collided head-on with an east-bound auto on the south shoulder.

After swerving onto the highway the car did not stop. A witness, however, noted the licence number.

Some day somebody is going to come up with a parking meter for a phone booth and make a lot of people happy.

Hog Producers

A "YES" VOTE ON JULY 25th FOR THE ONTARIO HOG MARKETING PLAN ENSURES YOU OF THESE BENEFITS:

1. Your rights as farmers and owners of hogs to establish bargaining power through group action in marketing.
2. Modern marketing methods. You have licked many production problems. The Hog Co-Op is the modern answer to your hog marketing problems.
3. Selling for highest price. Skilled salesmen at the Hog Co-Op bring you the highest possible prices. Since the plan went into effect, Ontario hog prices have been generally higher than prices anywhere in Canada.
4. Long and short term benefits. The present intelligent marketing plan lays the foundation for long term planning. You know you have an equal voice in the market, and now have as much planning in the marketing as production.
5. Democratic Marketing. Your local elected representatives have a right to carry your wishes into annual meetings and to help set policy for future action under the marketing plan.
6. Independence, freedom and security. You are independent of non-farm groups because of your group power. You have freedom to produce your hogs and manage your farm business as you wish. Your security is assured both materially and spiritually because you have the support of other hog producers.

VOTE YES — You will not have another chance for two years by regulation to vote this plan into operation.

Approximately seventy adults and children gathered at the Church Hall for the July meeting. The decorations were Japanese models fashioned by the pupils of both schools and vases of peonies and roses. Visitors were in attendance from Madoc Junction, Stirling and Toronto.

Mrs. Herbert Smith opened the meeting and welcomed the two Bands and their mothers and leaders. Following a hymn Mrs. Frank Jeffs offered prayer.

The Treasurer's report showed one new life member, 18 annual members and $150.00 remitted to the Presbyterian Treasurer. Thirteen members answered the roll call. Mrs. W. G. Fletcher dedicated the offering. The loose collection and the sale of articles at the close of the meeting netted the two Bands $11.70 which was equally divided.

Mrs. Ernest Spencer, leader of the Baby Band, and the mothers and her group had a special part and the leader read "The Story of the Gift Boxes." Seven children then graduated into the Mission Band. They were Karen Summers, Linda Lee Potts, Doreen Hubble, Joyce Jeffs, Gordon Spencer, Keith McConnell and Gordon Hoad. The Baby Band now has thirty-one members on their roll.

Mrs. Harry McAdam and twenty-four Mission Band members welcomed this group in a special way. Pauline Johnson, President of the Mission Band, presided over the programme. All repeated in unison the Mission Band Purpose. Brenda Williams read the Bible Lesson and Mrs. McAdam offered prayer.

Mary Ellen David and Diane McAdam contributed a piano duet.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

AVOID TURNIP DISEASES

Three common diseases can cut into the profit of any turnip grower, states C. B. Kelly, Department of Botany, Ontario Agricultural College. These diseases are storage rots, damping-off, and water core.

Storage rots include soft rot, black rot, and skin rot. The storage should be cleaned and disinfected. Don't dump refuse from the storage on land intended for turnips, and avoid the use of manure from turnip-fed cattle on fields where turnips will be grown.

Damping-off kills seedlings. Treating the seed with Somesan helps prevent damping-off of seedlings, as well as controlling black rot bacteria in the seed.

Water core is caused by a lack of boron in the soil. It may be prevented by dusting or spraying when the turnip roots average about one inch in diameter, using a commercial borax dust or spray for turnips. Do not use a sprayer that has been used to apply 2,4-D, because turnips are sensitive to 2,4-D and easily damaged. In a very dry season, a second application of borax, one month after the first may be helpful. A borax application is not needed on some soils that have sufficient boron, but this can only be determined by experience.

Further information on the control of turnip diseases is contained in the Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular 226, "Turnip Protection Guide." It is obtainable at the office of the Agricultural Representative.

FENCE ROW GROWTH SHOULD BE CONTROLLED

Weed trees and shrubs in fence rows are strictly for the birds. To the farmer, foul fence bottoms mean that his crops are being robbed of moisture and nutrients. Plants such as barberry and buckthorn act as alternate hosts to crop diseases and the presence of these hosts multiplies the incidence and amount of damage to susceptible crops, states the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

If the growth in fence rows is much over 6 feet in height, it should be cut or bulldozed and regrowth sprayed. A foliage spray applied when the brush is coming into full leaf will control susceptible species such as birch, cherry, elderberry, plum, willow and Manitoba maple. Elm, poplar and Hawthorne are not as easily controlled. A solution of 2,4-D ester made up of 32 oz. of acid equivalent in 100 gallons of water used as an overall spray will control these species, as well as most fence row weeds. A solution of 32 to 48 ounces of acid equivalent of brushkill (2,4-D and 2,4,5-T mixture) in 100 gallons of water is recommended for such woody plants as apple, barberry, buckthorn, dogweed, evergreens and hard maple.

A basal bark spray made up of 32 oz. acid equivalent of brushkill in 10 gallons of fuel oil may be applied at any time of year. This spray is applied to the bottom 18 inches of the stems, making sure that the entire stem and any exposed roots are covered. This same spray applied to stumps, including cut surfaces, is very effective in preventing regrowth.

Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular 750 gives further information on the control of woody plants and weeds in waste places. This circular may be obtained by residents of Ontario from offices of Agricultural Representatives.

HAYING MACHINERY

A recent innovation known as the Hay Bale Stooker is a useful piece of haying equipment for smaller farms.

This machine consists of a platform pulled behind the hay baler and it leaves stooks of six bales. A tractor equipped with a stook loader can lift all six bales and load them on a wagon. There are also several types of field bale loaders that will pick up individual bales.

Although two men are needed to bale and stook the crop, A. I. Magee of the Central Experimental Farm points out that the same two men can later pick up the bales and store them. This, he says, reduces the size of the crew needed for the overall haying operation.

One inexpensive type of loader is an attachment for a baler.

This consists of a chute at the rear of the machine that directs the bales into a trailed wagon where a man arranges the bales on the platform.

Another recent development uses a bale thrower on the baler that tosses the bales into a wagon box.

One man can operate the baler and load the wagon.

Both of these methods however, need a crew of men to unload the wagons and several wagons are needed if the baler is to operate continuously.

Normally this can be done economically only on larger farms where a large quantity of hay is handled each year.

FERTILIZER ACT

A new Fertilizer Act, overhauling the old one and bringing regulations up to date, went into effect July 1st, 1958.

The Act was approved by Parliament in April, 1957, and the regulations authorized by Governor in Council in June of this year.

C. R. Phillips, of the Plant Products Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, explained that one immediate result will be to increase plant food content of some fertilizers because the regulations set a higher minimum standard.

This, he said, will tend to eliminate smaller volume grades of lower analysis.

Special attention has been given sales of fertilizers with a pesticide content. It will be possible for a farmer to obtain mixtures of fertilizers and pesticides, provided they contain pesticides of the type and quantity suitable for the purpose intended. Further, the farmer must be supplied with labelling and directions for use of the product.

Fertilizer sales in Canada last year reached 800,000 tons.

The new Act was published in the Canada Gazette June 25th.

Official Opening of Bridge July 18th

The official opening of the No. 401 Highway Bridge at Trenton is expected to be held on Friday, July 18th.

The ceremony, according to an official of the Ontario Department of Highways will take place at 9.00 a.m. on that date, and attending the function will be officials of the department, representatives of the contracting firm and local officials in attendance.

At the moment work is being speeded to complete the section from No. 33 Highway east to Marysville.

Hog Producers Will Vote On Proposed Plan

Hog producers in all parts of Ontario will go to the polls on July 25th, to vote on continuing the Ontario Hog Producers' marketing plan. In all, there are 420 townships in the 42 counties affected. The main issue is whether producers will continue to have the right to co-operatively hire skilled, well-informed salesmen, to represent them in the market. Formerly, about 90 per cent of all hogs were delivered by truckers direct to the processors' plant and there was no open bidding on the public market for the hogs.

There is no age or citizenship requirements for voting. All that is required, is that a person be a producer of hogs for slaughtering. It is believed there are about 40,000 commercial producers in Ontario. Only one vote is allowed per farm, or per set of books, where a farmer and his son are working together.

Rawdon Township farmers will vote at the Township Hall, Harold, with Clerk W. J. Barlow acting as returning officer. In Sidney, the vote will be taken at the Orange Hall, Wallbridge, with Wilmet Bailey, returning officer.

MY BLOOD PRESSURE

My doctor tells me that unless I have an accident of some kind, I ought to live to be a hundred. He checks me every year, listens to my bill of complaints about this ache and that pain, then laughs at me. "Not a darn thing wrong with you, skinny," he says. "You'll just have to put up with it — you're healthy as a young chipmunk." A month ago, however, he found something wrong.

"Ummm," said he, "your blood pressure is pretty high for you."

"Ha," I told him. "I knew darn well there was something wrong . . . been getting those dizzy spells again. A bit of migraine headache, too, and I get tired if I have to run, and . . ."

"Hold it!" he said. "Let's not go through all that again." He fixed me with an accusing stare. "No reason physically, why your blood pressure should go up," he said, as if I wanted to have high blood pressure. "What's the matter? Have you got a hate on? What's bugging you?"

"Nothing's bugging me," I said, "except that I guess I'm in pretty bad shape, and that's what I came here for. If you weren't just a quack, you'd fix me up." My doctor is a crank, you see, and you can talk to him that way sometimes without getting hit on the head with a stethoscope.

"Try to think," he said. "Something's bugging you. Somebody cut in on you driving over here? Or did some discriminating publisher send you a rejection slip instead of a cheque for that travel you turn out? Think, now, it's important."

"Well," I admitted, "there was a guy in a green coupe — darn near clipped me, wasn't watching where he went . . ."

"Ah," said the doctor. He had his instrument strapped to my arm and was pumping merrily away. "Probably you were dawdling or something, and he had to get around you —"

"Dawdling!" I said. "Why?"

"Ah," said the doctor, "you gained ten points just talking about it. You're plugged full of resentment. You —"

"You tricked me," I said. "You're tricking yourself," he answered. "Come back next week and we'll check. Try to grow up in the meantime."

I have been back twice. Blood pressure normal. Except that the doctor gave me one heck of a lecture. "Resentments can kill people," he said. "Regulate yourself, not the other guy. Men can't afford resentments. You drive your car, let the other fellow drive his. That goes for lots of other things too. Don't try to regulate anybody but yourself."

Well, I guess the old quack was right. He usually is, but it sort of puts my blood pressure up to admit it!

Canadian history shows that the country's progress has always been closely identified with the advances in rail transportation. The year 1957 was no exception as both C.P.R. and C.N.R. opened up new areas of mineral exploration by provision of new rail lines.

STIRLING CENTENNIAL, AUG. 3rd to 6th, 1958

DO YOU KNOW THAT...

In 26 more days our Centennial will be history?
The programme lists worth-while events for young and old?
There are tickets still available on the $1000 bill?
The results of our Big Week depend on individual effort?
You may have some old costume that will create interest in the parade?
The men folk of the town are sporting a new type of hat?
The Horticultural Society are serving afternoon tea daily, free of charge, during the Centennial?
More floats are needed to make the parade a success?
The house or place of business without decoration will be open for criticism?
If you paint up, fuss up, dress up and work with imagination and enthusiasm, there will be no regrets for the next hundred years?

Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Fleming stressed the importance of the loan in re-organizing the government debt as a contribution to financial stability in the country and an impetus to further economic expansion.

Under the terms of the Canada Conversion Loan, anyone holding Victory Bonds worth $50 or more may exchange them. In return, they will receive bonds bearing a higher rate of interest, and also an immediate cash settlement. This cash adjustment payment is expected to add to investor interest in the new bonds and constitutes a premium for a lengthening of term.

Any Victory Bond — all of which bear interest at 3 per cent — may be exchanged for new 4½ per cent 25-year bonds. Three shorter maturities are available, at lower interest rates.

"We have to look beyond the needs of this fiscal year," said Mr. Fleming, announcing the loan in Parliament.

"During the next few years there will mature in quick succession the whole of the remaining five wartime Victory Loans, totalling over $6,400,000,000. This constitutes more than 60 per cent of our outstanding public debt, excluding the special categories of Canada Savings Bonds and Treasury Bills." The conversion program is designed to refund these issues in an orderly way.

Additions To School For Deaf

Plans are now being made for the opening in the fall of the million dollar additions to the Ontario School for the deaf, at Belleville, according to the Trenton Courier-Advocate.

Work on the extensive additions and installation of new equipment is now virtually completed. There are a number of minor last minute phases to be completed and these are being handled with all possible expedition at the present time.

The new facilities will enable this fine institution to render even more efficient and noteworthy service in the future than it has been doing to date.

Plans for the actual official opening of the addition have not been made as yet, but they are in the formative stage at the present time. It is likely that the event will take place in September or October.

Tweed Foundries To Cease Operations

Tweed's oldest industry will be closing its doors this week. C. C. Atton, President and manager of Tweed Engineering and Foundries Ltd., has announced that members of the staff have been given notice of the firm's intentions. "The demand for grey iron castings has been dropping within recent years; our volume has fallen off to the point where it is no longer economical to operate the plant, and we had no alternative, but to close up," Mr. Atton told the Tweed News. The present staff is comprised of ten people, including those performing office duties. At one time, the Foundry employed thirty-five.

Mr. Atton has explained that the foundry business has been hard-hit, not only this immediate area, but across Canada. Similar plants in Peterborough, Lindsay, Hastings, Frankford and Belleville, have been closed recently. Napanee Iron Works ceased operations in their foundry division some time ago. New inventions, and scientific developments in the metal field, have all contributed to the deterioration of the business. Manganese and ductalloy, alloys of cast iron, have been replacing grey iron and malleable iron castings. Aluminum and magnesium have entered into the picture and castings of these types, are much cheaper, while in contrast, the price of grey iron castings has necessarily increased. Patterns are also now made from plastic and fibre. The manufacture of grey iron castings for engine bases, has been supplanted by steel fabrication. Steel housing for much heavy equipment, has replaced cast iron. Shipping costs of grey iron to distant points is much higher than that of lighter materials, and this was another factor in the decision to close the local industry. Black Diamond plow points, for which the local plant was once noted; have been replaced by deep furrow points made of steel for tractors and disc plows. Salvage operations will commence next week, when the hundreds of patterns will be shipped back to those companies, with which the Foundry has been doing business.

The building and property will be retained and maintained by Tweed Foundries and Engineering Ltd., in the hope that another industry may become interested in locating in Tweed.

Tweed Foundries Ltd., of which Mr. W. S. Gordon was President, was purchased by Mr. Atton in 1946, at which time the firm was changed to Tweed Foundries and Engineering Ltd. Operated by Mr. S. G. Way for some years, it was previously known as Dominion Foundries.

Alfred "Ginger" Hounslow, who has been a member of the staff for many years, has been Assistant Manager and Foreman since Mr. Atton took over the business. He was employed in a similar capacity when it was owned by Mr. Gordon. His plans at the moment are indefinite. —Tweed News.

THE JET STREAM

What is the "jet stream?" It is defined as the fast current of air, flowing at 160 to 250 miles per hour, which is found at altitudes from 24,000 to 40,000 feet. It is probably 2,000 feet thick, has to be considered in air navigation, and influences the weather.

The Bible Today

Professor G. D. Kilpatrick, of Oxford, worked during eleven years with Dr. Erwin Nestle, of Württemberg, and with other experts to publish an up-to-date text of the Greek New Testament in 1957.

It is felt this new edition is undoubtedly the best available text, including, as it does in its apparatus or alternative readings, materials drawn, for example, from the hitherto unpublished portion of the new papyrus of the Fourth Gospel, known to have been written within fifty years of the actual writing of that Gospel.

Tuesday — Acts 4: 13-37

Government Issues

Invitation To Exchange Old Bonds

During the war, many people bought Victory Bonds. They did so partly to help the war effort and partly, too, because it seemed a sound way of investing savings at a reasonable rate of interest.

Down through the years millions of Canadians have kept their Victory Bonds, clipping the coupons every so often and feeling secure in the knowledge that modest nest-egg lay in reserve, to be used in case of emergency, to help pay for the children's education, or to help them enjoy their own retirement.

Last week, the government issued an invitation to exchange old bonds for new ones of the Canada Conversion Loan. The reason it did so was that five of the old Victory Loans will mature over the next few years. Rather than wait for each, in its turn, to fall due, it seemed more sensible to refund all five at the same time, by means of a single new issue.

No one, of course, is compelled to accept the government's offer. It is a matter for each person owning a bond to decide for himself. But because a rate of interest higher than on the old Victory's is offered and because the other basic attractions of government bonds remain unchanged, it seems likely that most people will accept. Within three days of the announcement over $1 billion of the bonds had been converted.

Experts in money matters say that besides refunding the old debt, the new Canada Conversion Loan will also stabilize many factors affecting the borrowing of funds and clear up many uncertainties which now add to the difficulties of bond financing. This should make it easier for municipalities and other borrowers to obtain the new money they must have in order to pay for the growth of essential services.

This will come as welcome news to cities, towns and villages, many of whom have found it difficult in recent months to sell their own bonds.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

LIQUOR STORE WATCHER

When I moved to Winnipeg three years ago the only suitable office location was across from the Fort Street liquor store, and because I'm a non-drinker I was kidded about this by my more genial friends who take a drink once in a while, some of them twice or thrice in a while.

I've become an experienced liquor-store watcher. When inspiration falls me, I sit and gawk from the window at the store across the way. I've become familiar with certain customer types.

First, the sad, sombre hungover souls who line up regularly before opening time, waiting with nervous gestures to get their wine or straight alcohol in order to settle raw nerves. They make no pretence of being casual; when the door is opened they rush the counter. These are the addicts, and may God help them.

Second, and even more pitiful, comes the fairly well-dressed man, carefully timing himself to arrive a few minutes after opening time, trying not to appear over-eager. When he comes out, however, clutching the brown-paper parcel, his nerves betray him and he walks quickly to some room or lane to take his "treatment."

He is most to be pitied, because he still has a distance to fall before he joins the handful of "regulars."

These are the problem drinkers about whom society must be concerned. Manitoba, I am proud to say, is showing such concern, and the small band of lost souls grows smaller from month to month.

Indeed, Manitoba's programme may, if it continues to be as successful as present results indicate, finally reduce the problem drinkers to almost zero by changing the drinking pattern of the province. Already, under the new laws and as a result of the educational program carried on by the Manitoba Committee on Alcohol Education, there is far less home drinking, far fewer office parties and hotel-room drinking. A commercial traveller tells me that he keeps no liquor in his room now; he prefers to take buyers down to the cocktail lounge or out to a restaurant for a drink. It is less expensive, more sociable, and the surroundings do not encourage the binges which sometimes left a bad taste in buyers' mouths.

I think most Manitobans are proud of the saner patterns of drinking that follow more liberal laws, rigidly enforced. Now even private clubs, which used to break the law, must comply to the very letter of it — but the law is reasonable. Bootlegging joints, I am told, have virtually ceased to exist. Teenage drinking has been curbed.

I hope that the day comes when I can look out my office window and see a sign over the liquor store reading: CLOSED FOR LACK OF CUSTOMERS. Meanwhile, any educational campaign, similar to the one being conducted in the Manitoba weekly papers by the Committee on Alcohol Education, has my ardent support. Education may succeed where compulsion failed. Let us hope so.

March of Dimes President Urges Adult Vaccination

W. Denis Whitaker, President of the March of Dimes, in a statement issued recently in Hamilton, urged that polio vaccine is now in good supply, he appealed to two groups — first the family, and second employers, to arrange for immunization of employees in groups.

"The age group between eighteen and forty is particularly vulnerable," he stated, "although those in their forties and fifties, are not necessarily immune. Every year, the March of Dimes is called on to help families where either the mother or the father are victims of polio. We know from experience how serious — sometimes tragic — the results can be."

Studies of the epidemiology of polio show that the age incidence is gradually increasing, he stated. Two generations ago, the disease was known as "Infantile Paralysis." Today, incidence charts show the age group still increasing.

Mr. Whitaker stated that free supplies of polio vaccine are available to all Ontario doctors and urged adults to telephone their family doctors for appointments. The first two shots are given one month apart, with the third "booster" shot given not less than seven months later. He also urged employers to write to the March of Dimes, 253 Spadina Road, Toronto for further information on the industrial immunization program, together with a supply of plant posters and pamphlets.

The Pioneer Kitchen

I see a kitchen as in a dream
But it belongs to a former regime,
Before electricity came to stay
I see it as if it was yesterday,
With the coal-oil lamps on the bracket shelf,
The cupboards tall with their dishes of delf,
The long kitchen table painted bright red,
The tantalizing loaves of fresh baked bread,
I can see us churning the golden butter—
If the cream was cold I can hear us sputter.
I can smell the odour of buttermilk pop
And see the razor my father does strop
And rows of juicy blueberry pies.
I can smell the tang of crisp northern spies
And see the curl and swirl of their peel—
And my grandmother at her spinning wheel;

I watch her combing and carding the wool
And hear her shuttle as she gives a pull.
The teakettle sings and gleams on the stove—
The woodbox is filled with wood from the grove
And Father is whittling cedar for kindling;
The hard-water pail is forever dwindling.
I can taste the honey and the honey comb—
And hear in the parlour the metronome.
At night we gather 'round the table—
We never heard of being unstable.
I see stacks and stacks of dirty dishes
And hear woeeful sounds and fervent wishes
As we dawdle, banter, joke and play
And sing a cheery, merry roundelay.
There Father sits and sews with an awl
And errie shadows dance on the wall
And Mother reads us thrilling stories
And we argue over Grits and Tories.
I can smell the popcorn and see the coals glow
And taste the maple taffy on the snow.
We laugh at the dog with his jaws shut tight
And welcome the neighbour out of the night.
I smell apple cider in a milk can
For that kitchen was Early Canadian.
I see it all like a faint tableau,
The pioneer kitchen of long ago.

DON'T HIT BEE IN MOVING CAR

(Fort William Times-Journal)

One of the hazards of summer driving is the sudden appearance of a bee, wasp or hornet in a moving car. At Kenora, the other day, a bumble bee was the cause of an accident, when a grandmother attempted to slap down the insect and drive at the same time. She accomplished neither. The bee found the window and flew out. The car careened out of control and ended up in the ditch against a big boulder. Damage to the bee — nil.

The sudden appearance of a biting insect in an automobile can be unnerving and even cause mild panic. But the experienced driver realizes that the intruder is there by mischance and is just as anxious to get out as the occupants are to see him leave.

The thing not to do is to make threatening passes at him while the vehicle is in motion. There's where the danger lies. Ignore him until he finds his way out, or bring the car to a full stop before trying to evict him. Neither driver nor passengers can take effective action while the car is in motion, without diverting attention from the important business of driving. Keep in mind that an auto accident can be more serious by far than an insect's sting.

The Tree Farm movement is expanding rapidly throughout Canada. Farmers and other land owners, anxious to make their sections of tree-growth profitable, are adopting modern methods of forest culture to encourage more rapid growth of types of trees giving the highest profit. The name Tree Farm indicates the application of the same principles of management as are applied to other agricultural crops.

The July meeting of Pine Grove Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Searles with 12 members, 4 visitors and 3 children present.

The President, Mrs. Wm. Slater, opened the meeting with a reading, "The Spirit and the World," followed by the Mary Stewart Collect in unison. The roll call was answered by naming a resolution — good or bad. Conveners of standing committees reported. Mrs. Frank Finkle reported on Home and Country.

A donation is to be made to "Care." Of those present no one was able to attend the holiday at Kemptonville. An invitation to have a social evening at the home of Mrs. Gladys Campbell, Belleville, on July 30th was accepted and Mrs. Harry Coulter will be the convener of the programme.

Current events were given by each member.

Mrs. Grace Bartindale, convener of Resolutions, convened the program. A poem, "Hello," was read by Elaine Lindenfield. Several members read humorous quotes. "If Only" was read by Mrs. Garnet Searles. Mrs. Bartindale read the Resolutions report from the winter Home and Country, 1958. Sixty resolutions were presented for consideration at the annual F.W.I.O. Board meeting.

An article on "Too many babies die in Ontario," was given and Mrs. Bartindale closed with a reading, "Mistrust Becomes Trust." Mrs. Albert Clare, local public school teacher, gave a very interesting talk on "Education."

A contest was conducted by Mrs. ence insists.

Bartindale which was enjoyed by all. After the singing of the National Anthem refreshments were served.

How To Avoid Being Struck Out On Canadian Highways

Summer motoring can be both pleasant and safe, declares the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, Urging drivers to "Slow Down and Live," it bases its optimism on a liberal time allowance for reaching one's destination and regular stops for relaxation and coffee.

Without these precautions a driver has two strikes on him, claims the Conference, which identifies the strikes as speed that disregards weather and road conditions, and insidious fatigue.

Fatigue can build up as a result of these heedless acts: starting on a trip without having slept well the night before, failure to stop for coffee breaks and a stretching of the muscles, and a determination to establish the all-Canadian daily mileage record. "Pile up trip mileage and you pile up in a ditch," says the Conference.

"It doesn't make sense that intelligent citizens of a free country should destroy as many lives as they do on our highways. Last year, 1,014 lives were lost in traffic accidents across Canada during the Slow Down and Live Campaign. This number could be substantially reduced if every driver would take the wheel only when rested and relinquish it the moment he feels tired," the Conference insists.

Forest Protection

Two fires occurred last week, one in Lake Township west of Gilmour, was caused by lightning and the other at Bradley Lake in Miller Township, north of Plevna, resulted from failure of a fishing party to take proper precautions with a campfire. Fortunately fire fighters were able to get the fires under control quickly and, as the fires were small, Provincial Police investigated the cause of the fire in Miller Township and the fishing party responsible will be charged with the full cost of controlling and extinguishing the fire.

Campers and fishermen travelling in the woods are requested to exercise every precaution to see that smoking materials and campfires are completely extinguished. Use thermos bottles to carry hot drinks whenever possible and help reduce the use of fire and consequently the Forest Fire Danger. Help Prevent Forest Fires.

Lands — Hastings, Lennox and Addington And Frontenac Counties

The early operations were confined to taking out only the choicest and largest pine for square timber, and this could have been continued, at intervals of a few years, indefinitely, except for fires. The great quantity of debris left in the woods after making square timber, together with the careless methods of the lumbermen, nearly always caused a forest fire, and this district proved no exception. Wherever the lumberman went fire followed him, and instead of leaving behind a forest improved by the removal of a few of the oldest and largest pine, there remained a forest of bare, limbless poles, where the mass of green trees had stood. Even now, years after the fire, the forest of dead pines or "rampikes" stands so thick as to convey the idea of a great hop yard, and this effect is enhanced, by the young, green forest, which conceals the bottom of the dead pines.

Although over thirty years have elapsed since settlement began in earnest in these Townships, it is still, except in the case of Clarendon, very thin and scattered.

The country is rocky, or I might say, mountainous, with numerous lakes and streams and occasional depressions or ravines, in which a gravelly soil, full of boulders but very strong and capable of producing splendid crops of grain and vegetables and fine pasture. These spots of arable soil are not numerous and are of very limited extent; very rarely can a level field of ten acres be found, and this good land is practically all taken up. The lumber industry, on which many of the settlers at one time depended to a great extent for work in winter and for a market for their live stock and hay and vegetables is now, a thing of the past, and as they are a long way from a railroad their market is a poor one. At present the farmers in the district are hoping for a mineral development that has long been looked for but is slow in coming.

Through the whole four Townships where it is not plowed a very vigorous growth of young timber is now standing.

Ontario's Oldest Baptist Church To Be Commemorated

On Sunday, July 27th, commencing at 3.00 p.m., ceremonies in connection with the unveiling of an historical plaque to commemorate the province's oldest existing Baptist Church will be held at Wicklow in the County of Northumberland.

This plaque is one of a series being erected throughout the province to commemorate persons, places and events of historical significance. The body responsible for that programme is the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board of Ontario which functions under the jurisdiction of the Department of Travel and Publicity. The Board is composed of nine private citizens vitally concerned with the promotion of an interest in local history. During 1956-57 some sixty plaques were unveiled and it is hoped that a similar number will be put up this year.

The programme will be sponsored by the Northumberland County Historical Society whose president, Mr. R. J. P. Davidson, will act as chairman. The government of Ontario will be represented by the Hon. William A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, and the Historic Sites Board by Prof. T. F. McIlwraith of the University of Toronto. The Warden, Mr. R. Bothwell, will speak on behalf of the County of Northumberland and Mr. Douglas Johnston, of Haldimand, on behalf of that township. The plaque will be unveiled by Mr. W. P. Hinman, a well-known local historian, and dedicated by the Rev. James Gibson, minister of Colborne Baptist Church.

The organization of the Baptists in the Townships of Haldimand and Cramahe may be said to have commenced in 1796 with the arrival of Reuben Crandall as a settler in Cramahe in that year. On June 23rd, 1798, a meeting was held to form a church for these two townships and on October 27th, 1799, Crandall was ordained. For sixteen years he travelled throughout the district conducting religious services.

Crandall resigned in 1812 and the absence of a regular minister, combined with the exigencies of the war with the United States which broke out in that year, imposed a severe restriction on the growth of the congregation.

However, in March, 1817, the Haldimand branch of the church felt strong enough to assume a separate existence and formed their own church at Wicklow. The Rev. Peleg Card became its first pastor in 1818.

The present simple but attractive frame building, the oldest existing Baptist chapel in this province, was completed in 1824. It is no longer used for regular services but is preserved because of its great historical interest. An anniversary service is held in the old building each summer.

What Others Say

WHY ARE SWEAPSTAKES OPPOSED? (Financial Times)

In the course of a debate on the National Health plan in the House of Commons during the past week the suggestion was made by a government supporter, a new member, that a sweepstake should be resorted to for help in financing the scheme. He was ruled out of order before he could expand on his idea, but was able to point out that there was some measure of opinion that the coverage should be widened and that this could be done by means of sweepstake.

Past experience indicates that, even if discussion on the question of a sweepstake had been allowed, it would have been unlikely to get very far. Members of Parliament, in the great majority, have on more than one occasion in the past shown great reluctance to give any support to a government sweepstake. It is questionable, we should think, that many of the members are personally opposed to the idea; on the contrary, we would imagine that many of them would favor the idea were it not for apprehension with regard to the reaction of a goodly element among their constituents to the support of "gambling" by their member.

That a sweepstake is a form of gambling cannot, of course, be denied; but it is a much more innocuous form of gambling than that which is carried on across the country day in and day out, with or without the connivance of the authorities. It is an established fact also that considerable money is leaving the country annually for sweepstakes originating elsewhere; this despite the efforts of the Post Office and provincial or municipal authorities.

There is legislation on the books of the Province of Quebec, has been for quite a number of years, which provides for a provincial sweepstake. It has, however, never been operative because of the Post Office ban on the distribution of sweepstake tickets.

With federal deficits piling up as they are, and as they promise to continue to pile up, and with little chance of any lightening the burden of taxation across the country, the day may come — and before very long — when many of those who have been, heretofore, opposed to the idea of a government sweepstake might begin to have a change of heart on the subject.

Great Britain has, in effect, a sort of wishy-washy form of sweepstake. Why the government did not go the whole hog while it was at it, is not easy to understand. Public opinion is, of course, the answer; but we wonder what the results of a plebiscite on the subject today would be.

"Doctor," said the obviously disturbed young man to the psychiatrist, "my biggest problem is that I always dream about baseball. Nothing but baseball."

"Don't you ever dream about girls?" asked the psychiatrist.

"What?" gasped the young man. "And miss my turn at bat?"

GRAIN AND HAY SHOW CANCELLED FOR YEAR

Officials of the International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago, have advised the Ontario Department of Agriculture that the International Grain and Hay Show will not be held this year.

By next year they hope to have more adequate facilities available which will allow them to modernize the event, making it more meaningful and attractive to both farm and city visitors.

It is expected, therefore, that the International Grain and Hay Show will be included in the programme of the International Live Stock Exposition in 1959. Information and prize lists will be available early enough next year to allow prospective exhibitors adequate time to make preparations for their exhibits.

BRUCELLOSIS

Brucellosis is costing the Canadian livestock industry about $9,000,000 annually through decreased milk production, loss in calf crop and the subsequent replacement of breeding stock, according to a senior Department of Agriculture official.

Dr. R. J. McClenaghan, Chief Veterinarian, Contagious Diseases Section, Health of Animals Division, made this statement.

He outlined developments in the national brucellosis control program, undertaken about a year ago with legislation under the Animal Contagious Diseases Act.

It is a test and slaughter program on an area basis, with compensation awarded owners for cattle which are found positive.

Seven Areas Certified

Already over 1,700,000 head have been accepted. Seven areas have been certified and 18 others are under test. Over-all rate of infection is less than one per cent of the total cattle population in areas now under supervision.

Underscoring the necessity for a brucellosis eradication program, he said, were limitations of previous control measures, the impact on the agricultural economy, and the fact that municipalities were demanding that all fluid milk come from brucellosis-free herds.

Another factor was the need to protect the Canadian export cattle market to the United States.

Areas or geographical units of not less than a county or rural municipality are accepted under the control scheme, after petitions have been submitted through Provincial Departments of Agriculture. All susceptible cattle in the area are subjected to a blood test. Calves under eight months, steers, spayed heifers, and official vaccinates up to 36 months are exempt.

Order Clean Premises

All positive animals are ordered slaughtered promptly and the premises cleaned and disinfected. A quarantine is placed on the entire herd to guard against sale of an animal that might have been exposed to infection.

On completion of the test, if the percentage of cattle infected does not exceed one per cent of the total cattle population in the area, and the percentage of infected herds does not exceed five per cent of the total herds, the area is certified for three years.

If the percentage is just a shade more than is called for, the area can be certified if a retest of the infected herds with 120 days discloses not more than one per cent infected.

Even after certification, a close check is kept on the level of infection. A brucellosis milk ring test is used to screen milk samples collected at dairies and milk factories from all milk and cream shippers in the area. Positive reactions are followed up with a serum agglutination test of the herd.

Mast Pass Test

Dr. McClenaghan explained that animals entering a control area for permanent stay must pass a negative test, and must be kept isolated from other cattle for another 30 days when a retest is made.

He also reviewed former methods of control, and dealt particularly with the Federal-Provincial Calfhood Vaccination Program, introduced in 1950. About 1,000,000 calves were vaccinated under this scheme last year — 65 per cent of the female calf population in the country. Cost of vaccine was $300,000.

"Experience has shown that it is unwise to forecast when any disease control program will be terminated," said Dr. McClenaghan. "We are hopeful that the ultimate eradication of brucellosis in Canada will be accomplished in much less time than has been the case in the tuberculosis program."

NEW ONTARIO POTATOES AVAILABLE ON MARKET

New crop potatoes fresh from Ontario's farms and gardens are now available from roadside markets and retail stores in convenient to carry bags or baskets. They may also be purchased at farmers' markets or from specialized growers who, in many cases, deliver supplies direct to consumers.

Most people consider their noon-day meal incomplete without a generous serving of potatoes; and the one-time custom of serving potatoes for breakfast has recently been re-established by some, reports the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

New potatoes are delicious, nutritious and easily prepared. Simply wash them well or scrub with a stiff brush, drop them in to boiling water with their jackets on to save all the valuable iron and other minerals and vitamins which they contain. Prick them with a fork after about twenty minutes to make sure they are cooked. Served with salt, pepper and butter they are an early summer treat.

On hot summer days potato salad is a favorite and economical dish for regular meals or outdoor picnics. One simple recipe is:

- 1 quart potatoes
- 2 tbsp. chopped parsley
- 2 tbsp. grated onion, chopped raw cucumber or green pepper
- French dressing.

Combine the sliced or diced potatoes with parsley, onion, cucumber or green pepper; moisten with French dressing; chill. The salad may be garnished with diced hard-cooked eggs.

Other recipes for using potatoes in salads, soups, supper dishes, etc. are contained in Bulletin 495, "Potatoes Every Day" which may be obtained by residents of Ontario from the Information Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, or from the offices of Agricultural Representatives throughout the Province.

Recognize Poison Ivy For Safe Vacations

For some reason Poison Ivy is rarely found north of Cochrane, but residents of the remainder of Ontario would do well to learn to recognize it and avoid it, warns the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The old adage "Leaflets three, let it be" is worth remembering, for while not all plants with three leaves are poison ivy, all poison ivy has three leaves.

Many school yards, playgrounds and beaches are infested with poison ivy, creating a hazard for children at play. These places should be inspected regularly and if poison ivy is found it should be sprayed. Amino triazole (1 oz. in 3 gals. water) is probably the most effective control, although Brushkill (a mixture of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T) at 1 oz. of acid equivalent in 3 gals. water, is effective during early growth. This does not kill the grass as amino triazole does. For rapid defoliation Ammate, Atticide or Erccide applied according to the manufacturer's directions will kill all growth above the ground.

Every teacher, and every parent planning a trip to the beach should be familiar with poison ivy. Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular 243 "Poison Ivy" has a coloured picture of the plant, information on the treatment of poison ivy poisoning and control of the plant. The circular is free to residents of Ontario and should be in every home.

Anyone who comes in contact with poison ivy should wash the skin thoroughly with soap and water. There are, of course, other causes of itching, irritating rashes, and a doctor should be consulted as soon as possible. Clothing contaminated by the weed should be washed repeatedly or drycleaned. Any tools coming in contact with the plant should be cleaned thoroughly as the irritation can be picked up from handling anything which has touched poison ivy.

Circular 243 may be obtained by Ontario residents from offices of Agricultural Representatives or from the Information Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

GARRY AND RODNEY OATS

Over 2,000,000 bushels of Garry oats, eligible for registration or certification, were produced in 1957. The production of Rodney amounted to about 1,500,000 bushels. It is estimated that over 75 per cent of the total quantity of graded seed of these varieties was exported to the United States, mainly to the states of New York and Pennsylvania.

The straight and narrow path would be much wider if more people travelled it.

Local Cubs

Enjoy Camp

Forty-one Cubs and leaders arrived at the Mohawk Air Station, near Deseronto, on Thursday, July 10th and were met at the camp by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irish, who arrived in camp in the morning. At 3 p.m. the boys met at the flag pole and the flag was broken by Jim Haggerty and the Grand Howl by Doug Wilkins. The boys were then put into their sixes with the following boys as the leaders: Bill West, Bob Bell, Ken Post, Doug Wilkins and Stev Cook. The boys then made up their beds and went for a swim, followed by supper.

The boys enjoyed a swim each morning and afternoon and did handicraft and Cub work during the day. Sunday morning a Church Service was held on the ball field under the big maple tree with the leaders taking part. Sunday afternoon a trail was laid out and the boys had a lot of fun trying to find it.

Points were given each day for the six that kept their corner clean. A field day and an Indian day were held. The results of the awards at camp were as follows: Best camper, John Murray, Stev Cook, Bill Bentley; Best Six, Stev Cook's; Highest points for field day, up to 10 years, Allen Duffin; over ten years, Bill West and John Valchar.

Wednesday evening the boys' parents came in and took part in the camp fire and then took their boys home.

This was the best camp Stirling Cubs have had. They are hoping to be able to have the same grounds next year. This would not be possible were it not for men who take time away from their business to transport the camp equipment. Many thanks to Chas. Davidson, Stirling

Creamery and Bert Woodbeck who loaned a truck to keep in camp for drawing the water and garbage.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES TO OPEN CENTENNIAL

Four-Day Programme Will Feature Drumhead Service, Parades, Soap Box Derby, Wrestling, Fun For All

The "Welcome" Sign Is On The Mat For All Form- er Residents and Friends

Two years of planning and often discouraging work will culminate in the Stirling Centennial Celebration which officially commences next Sunday, August 3rd. The Stirling Centennial Committee was formed almost two years ago. Since that time its members have worked hard to make the Celebration every success it should be.

As the official celebration nears, let us be mindful of the long historic tradition which has been Stirling in name and sterling in character. Our reputation as a happy, progressive and friendly community is at stake. It is up to every resident to see that this reputation is preserved. Let us then approach the Centennial with the same spirit which has characterised our community and its people for over 100 years.

No amount of work or planning by any committee will completely guarantee success. If our community's 400th anniversary is to be successful the interest and active support of every resident will be required.

It is the sincere wish of the Centennial Committee and all those who have been associated with the planning and carrying-out of the Centennial that everyone, guests and visitors, young and old, will find in the programme something to enjoy and remember for many years to come.

Registration Opens Friday

Registration of guests and visitors will commence in Friday, August 1st at 7.50 p.m. and will continue throughout the Celebration. A Registration and Billposting office has been set up in the local Hydro Office and will be staffed by members of the I.O.D.E. All local residents are urged to have their guests register as soon as they arrive.

Sunday Programme

Sunday's programme will feature special morning worship services in all local churches at 11.00 a.m. At 1.15 p.m. units of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment along with some 500 district Legionnaires will gather at the new Legion Hall, Mar-mora Road, to officially open the new Legion Building. Following this they will parade to the High School grounds via the War Memorial where wreaths will be placed. At the High School the public is invited to join in a special Drumhead Service commencing at 2 p.m. Rev. Canon A. S. McConnell, of Belleville, will be the guest speaker. Hon. Sidney E. Smith, Secretary of State for External Affairs; Senator Geo. White; Lee Grills, M.P. Hastings South; Roscoe Robson, M.P.P. East Hastings, and E. Sandcock, M.P.P. West Hastings will also attend.

Garden Party

The local Chapter of the I.O.D.E. will stage a public Garden Party on the High School lawn immediately following the drumhead service. This will afford everyone a chance to visit with old friends and to make new friends.

Band Concert

On Sunday evening at 8.15 the Salvation Army Band from Belleville will stage a band concert at the Recreation Centre. Music lovers are assured of a real treat and it is expected a large crowd will be on hand.

Jet Show and Parade Monday

Monday, August 4th offers a big day for everyone. The RCAF will stage a jet air show commencing at 3.40 p.m. The aircraft in this show will be Starfire jets and will be piloted by airmen stationed at Trenton Air Station. At 2.00 p.m. the Monster Centennial Parade will leave the Fair Grounds. It can be safely predicted that this parade will be the biggest, and best parade ever seen in Stirling. A number of fine district bands will provide music for the parade. Anyone wishing to take part in the parade either as a marcher or with a float is

At the High School the official opening ceremonies will be conducted with Mr. Lloyd Price, Warden of Hastings County, doing the honours.

A life-saving award will also be presented to a district resident. Following the official ceremonies which will be very brief, the Colborne Recreation Band will perform its now famous march routine. This will be one of the highlights of the Centennial. In addition games and the merry-go-round will be in operation, and a food booth will provide delicious eats.

In addition members of the Horticultural Society are serving afternoon tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Elliott during the Centennial celebration.

Hastings County Crop Improvement Association Hold Twilight Meeting

On July 24th the Hastings County Crop and Soil Improvement Association met at the farm of Philo Harris, Madoc, for their Twilight Meeting. Meeting with them were the South Hastings 4-H Grain and Grain Corn Clubs.

Here they were able to view the barley drill width demonstration plots and hear Mr. Douglas Parks, Field Husbandry Department, Kemptville Agricultural School, discuss the varieties. This year the varieties being demonstrated were Brant, York, Nord, Parkland and Herta. Brant is one of the good varieties of feed barley. It is high yielding and mildew resistant to most strains. York is a new variety just licensed for sale this year and is showing good promise of becoming an excellent variety for this area.

Nord is a very early variety and is desirable when growing with oats of an early maturity. It is especially designed for Northern Ontario.

Parkland has established itself well and is the only maturing barley in the demonstration plots. It has yielded consistently higher than the other maturing varieties. Herta is a two rowed barley and is late in maturity and mixes well with Garry and Rodney. However, it is not a high yielder in this part of the country although this plot looks well this year as it has been a cool year.

Mr. Harris spoke briefly on his hay and pasture programme; mentioning he likes the rhizoma alfalfa for pasturing as this variety has a very low crown and so grazing does not harm it to the same extent as other varieties. However, for a general hay and pasture mixture the Vernal Alfalfa is still the recommended variety. In the district hay competition Mr. Harris won 2nd prize last year and 3rd this year. Commenting on this he mentioned that last year the field had more alfalfa and less brome and so made a more desirable mixture.

This year he was very pleased with the results of applying nitrogen to his hay pasture field that consisted mainly of grasses. He mentioned that he got a good one-third more of the field from the fertilized area and that the grasses were much richer appearing. This was a year when nitrogen could do a lot for grasses as the spring was cold and backward and so the soil bacteria were working very slowly.

Following a short discussion of weed control and corn, a film "What's In the Bag" was shown. It was explained in the film the reason why 100 lbs. of fertilizer does not give 100 lbs. of plant food. The main reason is that these elements, nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium can not be applied pure as the plants cannot use them as such but must be applied with a carrier.

The meeting was organized by the executive of the Hastings County Soil and Crop Improvement Association with the assistance of the Agricultural Representative, Sidney MacDonald, who acted as chairman for the evening. The 4-H portion of the evening was under the direction of the Assistant Agricultural Representative, Clinton J. Nesbitt, and Club Leaders, Harold Chambers and Harry Coulter. Mr. Lorne Hagerman, Vice-President of the Association expressed the appreciation of the Club and the others present to Mr. Harris and family for their co-operation with the test plots and for acting as host and to Mr. Doug Parks for his fine discussion. The Twilight Meeting closed with refreshments served by the host.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

How mysterious are the forces at work in human history! Generation after generation, when the shadow-boxing of ordinary politics have given place to more tragic events, two giants always face each other — the Goliath of dictatorial power and the Innocency and invincibility of the Gospel.

It was Bishop Berggrav, of Norway, after solitary confinement in prison in the last war who said: "During those days the Bible became the very hand of God to me."

Last year the Bible Societies sent nearly one million Scriptures to Germany — East and West; to Hungary 50 tons of paper for Bible printing, and to Poland went a steady stream of Scriptures. Even in Russia and far away China the long arm of Bible Society activity reached out.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

The Stirling Centennial will be recognized at St. Paul's on Sunday, August 3rd when the Honourable Sidney E. Smith, P.C., Secretary of State for External Affairs, will give the address.

All friends attending this service are invited to share in a Social Hour with buffet lunch after the service. We are grateful to the ladies of St. Paul's for this arrangement. Twelve men are required to help at the lunch and those willing to give this help are asked to communicate with Mrs. R. A. Patterson, phone 335 Stirling.

There will be no service at Carmel either on August 3rd or August 10th.

A Traveller's Note Book

At times we are left wondering! Entering a village recently, I was impressed with a sign which read "... Welcomes You." On leaving the village, another sign read "Come Back Some Time." This all struck me as good business until I realized after looking around that it is one of the dingiest villages I ever entered. Untidy to the nth degree, shacks with dumps of rubbish in galore, the river side completely unkept and the houses for the most part in need of a good coat of paint.

Another town also caught attention and its recommendation was as follows: "Your drinks cost less, spirits are slightly higher proof than in ... and you will find the doors always open."

And we fell to wondering: 'what is it that makes a place attractive, what is it that makes you feel welcomed?'

First of all we must of us fall for a general scenery, the natural features of a place are the first to strike us. We like it or we do not like it. If we like it, we return to it again. In this, Stirling has much to offer. Near by we have our river and our hills, green pastures and pleasant homesteads.

STIRLING

Within the town our people have not neglected its buildings and its houses. Our streets are better lit than most comparable places and our houses are generally well kept.

As to public places the Village Council has done its work well, and our Cenotaph and creek-side, together with Memorial Park is evidence of that.

And the people. We do not agree that should a householder fail to decorate, he will come in for criticism.

Heaven save us from that sort of intimidation, and heaven preserve to us the individual. But it possibly did not mean that. It means, most everybody has done a good job of work by way of garden and so forth, and it would be a pity to have any house open to reproach.

So, Stirling, take a bow. And may the next one hundred years find Stirling growing prosperous and prettier for coming generations to see.

Re-Union of the Hubble Clan

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen)

Approximately one hundred members of the Hubble Clan gathered on July 27th in Frankford Memorial Hall for their annual re-union dinner. The group are descendants of the pioneer Nehemiah Hubble who came to Hubble Hill, Rawdon Township in 1784 with the United Empire Loyalist pilgrimage. Relatives were in attendance from Windsor, Orillia, St. Catharines, Weston, Acton, Kingston, Shannonville, Belleville, Foxboro, Dunbarton, Campbellford, Stockdale, Marmora, Hastings, Carmel, Rawdon, Springbrook, Stirling, Mount Pleasant, Rawdon and other nearby points. Eighty-nine families were in attendance at this ninth re-union.

Eighty-five persons enjoyed the noon meal and several others came in later. A few races for the children were conducted with treats for all.

President Cecil Hubble presided over the programme and welcomed all. Following the "Queen," Mrs. Russell Pyear, Stirling, presented her report. The offering for the general fund was $24.00. Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. Russell Hubel and Mrs. Don Terry spoke briefly re the Hubble History book. Pictures were displayed and cost of insertions explained. Clifford Hubble, Treasurer of the Book Fund has $169.00 in the bank. At some future date 100 copies will be published and some 60 odd books are ordered now. The general fund donated $25.00 to the expense of publishing. Mrs. Lorne Hubble, Stockdale, gave a generous donation as a memorial to her late husband who organized the first re-union at Presqu'ile in 1950.

The Ways and Means committee will plan another social evening at Foxboro to aid the Book Fund in November of this year with Mrs. Clarence Hay, of Rednersville, as convener.

The 1959 Re-union will be held on the 4th Sunday of July at Frankford Memorial Hall.

Old Dobbin Runs Second

"The old grey mare ain't what she used to be..."

Or at least she isn't being put to as much use as she used to be.

More and more farm horses are being turned out to pasture as the tractors take over.

This was underscored by information provided by the Economics Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, which shows that in 1921 there were 3,452,000 horses while less than two years ago there were only 784,000.

The information is based on the Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures.

This means that the horse-per-farm ratio has nosedived from 4.85 in 1921 to 1.36.

And still the downward trend continues.

Colin Crew Named Liberal Candidate Northumberland

Colin Crew, of Trenton West, was unanimously nominated as Liberal candidate for Northumberland County on Thursday night last in the next provincial election whenever that might be called Premier Leslie Frost.

It was one of the smallest political meetings which Cobourg had seen for a long time. The main floor of the Victoria Theatre was half full. The two balconies were unoccupied. The platform, except for the presence of the guest speaker, Roy Frith, Vice-President of the Ontario Liberal Association, was conspicuous by the absence of any prominent Northumberland County Liberal.

To Cheap Is Too Costly

The following story complete with a moral appeared recently in Frank MacIntyre's Dundalk (Ont.) Herald:

Once upon a time there was a farmer too cheap to subscribe to his local newspaper. Every week he'd send his little boy to borrow the next-door neighbour's. One day, in his haste, the little boy tripped over a hive of bees and in ten minutes just looked like a summer squash.

His father rushed to his assistance, and failing to notice a barbed wire fence, tore and ruined a $15 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got into the next field and gorged herself to death on green corn.

Hearing the commotion, his wife ran out, upsetting a four-gallon can of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire lot and losing the cream. The baby, left all alone crawled through the cream into the parlor ruining a $150 rug.

During all the excitement, the eldest daughter ran off with the hired hand, the dog broke up six setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails of four shirts on the line.

MORAL: "Everyone should have their own copy of the —"

Every Time

"No Sir," said Eustace Coleridge, "it's all wrong. What with the latest medical discoveries and the newest inventions, a man dies just through carelessness. Not for me. I'm going to watch my step, and live forever."

So—

He brushed his teeth twice daily with the right kind of toothpaste.

He had a complete physical examination every three months.

He always stayed inside when it rained.

He slept with the windows open.

He stuck to his diet — with plenty of proteins and fresh vegetables.

He had his tonsils taken out and traded in several worn-out glands.

He played golf, but never more than 18 holes at a time.

He took ocean trips, but only when the weather was good.

He never smoked, drank, or lost his temper.

He wore arch preservers.

He never worked under a strain on drove himself.

TOMATO TRANSPLANTING MACHINE

The time required for setting tomato plants in the field has been cut by 45 per cent through the use of a new model transplanting machine in the Horticultural Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Furthermore, machine planted transplants showed less evidence of setback than comparable plants set by hand.

Police Expect Busy Week-end

On the long week-end last August, 28 people lost their lives on Ontario roads. Hundreds of others were injured in automobile accidents.

Once again, this coming week-end will likely be the busiest of the year, both for the highways—and the hospitals.

Your Ontario Provincial Police force will take no holiday. They, and countless municipal policemen will be working full-time to guard our streets and highways against a repetition of last year's terrible experience.

If you travel this week-end, remember that 1,800 OPP officers will be watching you drive. Make it a holiday to remember for them, as well as for yourself.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

A FARMER BLOWS HIS TOP

A farm friend with whom I've had many an argument came into my office today waving a clipping from the paper.

"Well," he said, "do you see what I see?"

I nodded. "It looks as if a few companies in the oil business are trying to hornswoggle the government into helping build a pipeline... just the way the Trans-Canada Pipeline people did."

"Not only that," he said. "They want the Montreal market protected for them. They're using Lebanon as an excuse."

"Not only Lebanon," I said mildly. "The oil industry has a lot of problems, with the U.S.A. getting cold to them. It's a risky business."

"Ha!" he snorted, like an oil gusher blowing in. "you see what I mean about you? You never want the farmers to get any government help, but you defend the oil people."

"Ha right back at you!" I told him. "If I thought there was any chance that our government would get into another pipeline adventure I'd yell louder than you — and that's something!"

"Well," he snapped, start yelling. "mister, it'll be the same old story. Politicians are all the same!"

I don't know that Ottawa ever pays any attention to me, but I'm willing to yell good and loud that if this new government goes into a crude oil pipeline deal it's going to get just what the old government got — a thumping from voters, even here in the West.

Sure, we know the oil business is risky and we want to see it do well. But we also know fortunes have been made, and most oil companies have done all right. If a portion of the oil industry wants the Montreal market, let them build their own pipeline. Surely they haven't given up on other markets, just because the U.S.A. has been a bit tough with them lately. I thought that oil men would be the very last to go running to government for help at the first sign of a set back, but apparently the subsidy disease is catching.

I'll guarantee one thing. If a small section of the oil industry is able to talk the government into helping to build a pipeline or carve out a market the entire industry will live to regret it. If they get the pipeline they'll get a whole caboodle of regulations and restrictions along with it. Then they'll scream for good old free enterprise again.

As for me, I was glad to see my farmer friend blow his top about subsidies. I wish he'd feel the same way about some farm subsidies. Subsidies of any kind ought to be reserved for the gravest emergencies. And certainly the oil industry isn't on the verge of bankruptcy yet!

Canadian Doctors Pioneer "Frozen Sleep" Surgery

Pioneer "Frozen Sleep" surgery by researchers, under Dr. Wilfred Gordon Bigelow at University of Toronto, has led to the performing of hitherto impossible operations, reports J. D. Ratcliffe in August Liberty Magazine.

Experimenting with hibernating ground hogs, Dr. Bigelow discovered it was possible, by reducing body temperature to 68 degrees, to cut off blood supply to heart and brain for 10 to 15 minutes without harm. Since then, more than 1,000 delicate operations have been performed with the aid of "hypothermia," as the new cooling process is called.

In October 1955, Kenneth Ross, a 23-year-old athlete from Durham, Ont., underwent three "deep-freeze" operations in a row at Toronto General Hospital — one on the main artery, near his heart, then two delicate brain operations a week later. Mrs. Sleeman, a 43-year-old Vancouver housewife who underwent "deep-freeze" for a rheumatic heart, said of the cooling process, "I didn't shiver at all. I seemed to be lulled to sleep." One 26-year-old woman, weakened and wasted by a hole in her heart, was put to sleep and cooled to 72 degrees while the hole was repaired. Two months later, she was doing housework.

When the body is cooled below 90 degrees, the cold itself acts as a pain killer and sleep producer, so that often, no further anesthetic is necessary. And, since virtually all anesthetics are poisonous, hypothermia has the added advantage of hastening recovery from difficult operations, reports Ratcliffe.

"Hypothermia is proving exceptionally useful in brain surgery," Ratcliffe says. "With the patient cooled to the low 80's, the blood supply can be cut off for up to 20 minutes. That gives surgeons time to work with new, unburied confidence."

While 86 degrees is considered today's safe temperature, far lower ones may be achieved soon. Dr. Bigelow: "It is quite possible that, within the next few years, prolonged interruption of the circulation at very low temperatures will be achieved." When this happens prolonged operations — out of reach today — may become as common as tonsilectomies.

BUILD SUPPER AROUND A SALAD

It will be easy to do, for at no other time of the year is there a greater selection of fresh Canadian fruits and vegetables from which to choose.

To assist you in planning supper salads, the Home Economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture have outlined several supper (or lunch) menus. It is hoped that these will remind you of some of the many ways in which salads can be served.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

CARE IS NECESSARY IN WASHING EGGS

Maintaining the high quality of eggs during warm summer weather is a problem that concerns poultrymen everywhere. Don Luckham, Western Ontario Agricultural School, Ridgeway, advises that during warm weather eggs should be gathered more frequently and they should be cooled as soon after laying as possible with 55 degs. F. recommended as the most satisfactory temperature. Eggs should be kept at this temperature day and night and humidity should be kept at a fairly high level as well.

The easiest method of maintaining this temperature is to keep the eggs in the basement where it is usually cool and damp and temperatures do not fluctuate too much. A homemade egg cooler is a help and consists of a wooden framework with a wicker pan on top. By hanging burlap over the sides with one end in the water, the burlap will act as a wick, soaking up the water and making a cool humid place to keep the eggs until they are shipped. Mechanical egg coolers are also available.

Everything possible should be done to produce clean eggs that do not require washing. For those that do, the temperature of the water is most important. It should be from 110 to 120 degs. F. and washing should take no longer than three minutes. A bit of detergent added to the water in which eggs are washed helps to cut down bacterial contamination. Not more than three or four baskets of eggs should be washed in each lot of water and they should be dried as quickly as possible after washing. If the washer is not equipped with a thermostat, temperature of the water should be watched very closely.

While the production of high quality eggs by the use of suitable feed and good management is essential, the maintenance of high quality through proper handling and storage until time of shipment is also very important.

AGRICULTURAL FLYING

Canadian farmers are taking to the air to keep pace with the times.

Today airplanes are used for many things, from chasing ducks from swathed grain to making a quick trip to town for implement parts.

Yet the first flight for agricultural purposes was made just 38 years ago at Lake Timiskaming, Ont., the same year as the first plane flew from Halifax to Vancouver.

Since 1920, agricultural flying has snowballed to the point where last year 203 craft logged a total of 15,435 hours, according to a study conducted by L. E. Philipotts, of the Economics Division, Marketing Service, Canada Department of Agriculture.

Mainly the airplane was used for spraying and dusting. But the story goes further — much further.

Guard Against Frost

A unique mission saw planes flying over flax, vineyards and other special crops, raising the dawn temperatures so that frost would not damage the crops.

From the air, strayed and injured cattle were spotted and other cattle counted and rounded up. Fences, windmills and other facilities were checked and repaired if needed, and salt blocks dropped for grazing livestock.

A check was made on watersheds, run-off conditions, flooded areas and drainage and irrigation systems.

Weed and crop growth, crop damage, pasture conditions, orientation of field layouts, and general field conditions including the time for seeding and summerfallowing, came under survey.

Hunt Foxes

Other purposes included hunting coyotes, foxes and other predatory game, timber cruising, surveying farm land before purchasing, watching for fires, and taking photographs.

Many farmers now use the airplane in place of a car or small truck. They can transport workers to remote farm area, and even supply them with meals by air. They can fly to meetings of farm organizations that previously they didn't have time to attend. And they can go hunting, fishing, visiting, or sightseeing.

Veterinarians use aircraft in some areas, particularly in the winter when roads are blocked. Some farm machinery salesmen make the rounds by air. Even clergymen and missionaries use this method to cover quickly rural parishes and circuits.

In the Prairie Provinces last year, 399,143 acres of grain were sprayed or dusted for control of weeds, buck brush and insects.

In Ontario 22,500 acres of tobacco were sprayed and 1,050 acres fertilized; 2,200 acres sprayed for brush control; 4,000 acres of spruce trees sprayed; many Christmas tree plantations dusted; and thousands of acres sprayed for control of flies and mosquitoes.

In New Brunswick, 3,300 acres were sprayed for bush control.

The Department of Agriculture report, first of its kind, showed that indirectly World War II spurred agricultural flying, as young men left the RCAF to swell the ranks of flying farmers.

I always admire the wisdom of those who come to me for advice.

Whistling past the graveyard

This driver is a lot closer to the graveyard than he thinks. At the speed he's going, even a minor mistake in judgment could cause a major highway disaster. Reckless speed is the cause of too many fatal accidents on the road. And sometimes even the speed limit can be misleading—you can be within the limit and still be going too fast for driving conditions. Here's an easy rule of thumb to guide you to a safe speed: always drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the distance that's clear ahead. At night, drive at a speed that will permit you to stop within headlight range. If you are tired, or inattentive—don't drive at all. One simple way to check whether your speed is too high or not is to watch the traffic around you. If you are passing most of the other cars on the road, you are going too fast. If most of them are passing you, you are going too slow. Your Ontario Department of Transport urges you to observe the speed limits—slow down and live!

DO YOU KNOW THAT ...

Our heritage embraces traditions of the past both good and bad? Through the years man has sought to emphasize the good and eliminate the bad. Yet occasionally we find evidence of the bad overruling.

Vandalism and destruction are two elements which leave nothing in their paths except regret. There are other factions which may produce the same results and which are better omitted.

Barlow — Mjolid Nuptials At Swift Current, Sask.

St. Olaf's Lutheran Church, Swift Current, Saskatchewan, with tall lighted candelabra, was adorned with baskets of pink and white gladioli and tall standards of fern and carnations on Saturday, July 5th, at seven p.m. for the marriage of Miss Gertrude Randi Mjolid, of Red Deer, Alberta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mjolid, of Lelma, Sask., to Dr. Hedley James Barlow, of Edmonton, Alberta, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barlow, Bonarlaw, Ontario.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. P. Olsen, of Kyle, Sask., assisted by the Rev. P. Propp, Swift Current, Sask.

Mrs. Grant provided the wedding music, the Bridal March from Lohengrin and the Wedding March by Mendelssohn. She also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Gene Sundley, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Peter Mjolid, the bride was charming in her floor-length imported bridal gown of French chiffon velvet over tulle. The sweetheart neckline and tunic length overskirt were hand done with inserts of tulle. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught in a double crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a lovely spray bouquet of pink roses. She also wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

She was attended by her sisters, Mrs. J. M. Dugan, of Red Deer, Alta., as matron of honour and Mrs. E. Schatkoski, of Lelma, Sask., as bridesmaid. They wore cocktail length dresses of pink crystalite with contrasting sashes of nylon. Their accessories were white and they carried crescent bouquets of white gladioli. The junior bridesmaid, Lillian Schatkoski, niece of the bride, wore a floor length gown of white crystalite with a pink sash and pink head-dress and carried pink carnations.

Dr. J. M. Dugan, of Red Deer, Alta., attended the groom, while Mr. Jesse E. Barlow, of Ottawa, brother of the groom, Dr. Donald MacDonald, of

This is the last opportunity your Centennial Book Committee will have to convey a message and so — let us as citizens make our Centennial Celebrations resound with happy memories, be mindful of the Golden Rule and keep the records for future generations filled to overflowing with unselfish efforts and the fondest of greetings!

Lacombe, Alta., and Mr. Kolljorn Mjolid, Lelma, Sask., brother of the bride, were ushers.

The reception was held in the church parlours. The bride's table was appointed with white damask and centred by a three-tiered, all white wedding cake and misted about the base with white tulle and pink rose buds scattered in its folds. Bouquets of pink and white carnations and lighted candles completed the table decorations.

The bride's mother for her daughter's marriage, wore a dusty rose lace over taffeta dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother, who assisted in receiving the guests were present from Bonarlaw, linen, with navy and white accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

For the wedding trip to Banff, Jasper and Vancouver, the bride chose a black Blin, and Blin broadcloth suit with tangerine accessories and a corsage of French white carnations.

Guests were present from Bonarlaw, Ont.; Ottawa, Ont.; Red Deer and Lacombe, Alta.

Dr. and Mrs. Barlow will reside at 11051 — 97th Street, Edmonton, Alta. Prior to the marriage there were various showers and presentations honouring the bride and groom.

Centennial Programme

signated as Farmer's Day. In the morning old time and local residents are invited to meet at the High School at 10 a.m. A full programme has been mapped out under the chairmanship of Mr. J. B. Belshaw. It is suggested that those planning to attend bring a box lunch.

At 1.30 p.m. on Tuesday the Farmer's Day Parade will leave the Fair Grounds. All local farmers, implement dealers and businessmen are invited to enter this parade. Full details may be obtained from Graham Mouck.

Calf Rodeo

An unusual and most entertaining feature will be provided at 3 p.m. on Tuesday at the Recreation Centre when a Calf Rodeo will be held. This event has certainly proved popular wherever it has been staged and the Centennial Committee feels certain this will be no exception. Once again handsome prizes are being offered the winners. The contest is open to boys between 14 and 18. Those interested in entering are asked to contact the local office of the Department of Agriculture and leave their name with Mr. Sid MacDonald.

Fireworks

In addition to the Centennial Carnival and Dance on Tuesday evening Centennial visitors and local residents will be treated to an outstanding fireworks display commencing at 11 p.m. This is one of the largest displays in Eastern Ontario. Best vantage point for the show will be at the Recreation Centre. This show will also be repeated on Wednesday evening at the same time.

Wednesday, Aug. 6th

Children's Day

Wednesday, August 6th will be the concluding day of the Celebration. Quite fittingly it seems the day's programme will be directed to the enjoyment of the younger generation. Commencing at 9 a.m. at the Recreation Centre a number of contests and races will be staged. All district children are invited to take part. A feature of this programme will be a watermelon-eating contest.

Mutt Show

At 1 p.m. on Wednesday a Mutt Show will be held at the Recreation Centre. This is open to all children. Prizes will be awarded in many classes and every child entering a pet will be awarded a special prize by representatives of the Quaker Oats Co.

Children's Parade

The Children's Day Parade will form up at the High School at 1.45 p.m. Once again every boy or girl entering the parade either in costume or with a pet or a decorated vehicle will be treated royally. In addition special prizes will be awarded for costumes and decorated vehicles. Following the parade the Centennial Committee will stage a Soap Box Derby on the Front Street hill commencing at 3 p.m. This event will afford many thrills for the spectators and the youthful competitors will be out to win several valuable prizes.

The final night of the celebration will again feature the Centennial Carnival commencing at 8 p.m. at the High School. Adding considerable interest to the event will be a draw to determine the winner of $1,000. Tickets will be scarce before long and you are advised to make sure of yours as soon as possible.

Shirt Tail Parade

Following the final giant fireworks display at 11 p.m. the Centennial will close with a Shirttail parade which will originate at the High School. This event alone will be worth seeing and taking part in. The parade will be your last opportunity to mark this community's Centennial. It is expected that every resident and guest will take part in the parade. At present many plans are being made for the parade, however, it is difficult to ascertain the exact details at this time.

The principal aims and objects of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce are "the Civic, Commercial, Agricultural and Industrial development of Stirling and district." During its short history these principles have been the guiding rule in all Chamber deliberations. The Chamber has known four presidents, Mr. H. R. Tompkins, Mr. E. D. Ketcheson, Mr. D. W. Rodgers and Mr. J. V. Holt. It has an average membership of forty-five.

Since 1952 the Chamber has worked diligently to promote industrial growth and development in the community. The efforts of five years have not been in vain, despite the tremendous competition to be found in this field of Chamber work.

BEAUTIFUL OLD HOMES OF STIRLING

This is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morton, 74 Front St. W. It was built in the 1840's and is constructed of limestone 24" thick. On examination it is found that there are three layers of stone. Eight inch by eight inch hewed timbers form the joists for upstairs and the downstairs sleepers are of cedar. The flooring is 2" thick and is left a small distance apart in order that the heat might go through. Plaster of Paris was used in decorations and with a cove mold produces a very ornate effect.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Belehaw, built in 1842 and located at 77 Front St. W., is an example of a well preserved house. It is constructed of 8" by 8" hewed pine timber, in bents 6 ft. apart, lined with a 9" brick wall and covered with half-inch clap board siding. The inside trim and doors are hand-made with heavy cove mold over the tops of the windows. The flooring is 1 1/2" hand-made grooved and tongued lumber.

For frantic boast and foolish word—
Thy mercy on Thy people Lord.

Centennial Hats In Demand

R. A. Patterson, local haberdasher, is experiencing difficulty in supplying the demand for "Centennial" hats. The western style stetsons and the "plug" hats are those most favoured by both young and old and Centennial enthusiasm is evidenced on every hand.

Taking A Quick Look Back At Stirling

As Stirling and its citizens prepare to celebrate 100 years as an incorporated village, it is wise that we should spend some time in retrospect and recall the days of our forefathers.

While Stirling was settled mainly in the 1820's and 1830's by immigrants from the British Isles, it was not incorporated into a village until 1858. Since that time it has grown to its present stature, with modern buildings, thriving businesses and an active population.

Although the manufacturing of timber was the first industry of note in the area, due partly to the nearness of the Trent river by which wood could be floated to the Bay of Quinte, Stirling's industries soon grew and became more diversified. This naturally helped establish the town as the centre or hub of Hastings County and the railway only solidified the town's position.

Today Stirling boasts five churches, a Rotary Club, Oddfellows Lodge, a Masonic Lodge, a Loyal Orange Lodge, a Laurel Rebekah Lodge, a L.O.B.A. Lodge, an active Chamber of Commerce and a Canadian Legion Branch in the process of moving into newer and larger quarters.

In addition, municipal buildings are an attestation to the prosperity of the town, the post office building being of recent construction and a public library the envy of similar-sized towns in the area.

The local Boy Scout and Girl Guide Associations reflect the community spirit evident in other local organizations, and last year Scouts Ronald Woodbeck and Douglas Fairies attended the World Jamboree in England. Enrolment in the Girl Guides is high with 38 Brownies and 37 Guides.

THE FOOD BASKET

MAKE THE MOST OF GREEN AND WAX BEANS

July is the time to really enjoy the summer crop of green and wax beans.

Because they're so tender and crisp and practically stringless, you'll want to serve them often. Use cold, cooked beans in salads, too, and include them with other vegetables on a relish tray now and then.

The Consumer Section home economists recommended that you buy 1½ pounds of green or wax beans for each six servings. This allows about 1 cup of beans per serving.

Freshly picked beans require very little preparation for cooking . . .
simply wash them and snap off the ends. You can leave the beans whole, cut them straight across into 1 inch pieces or diagonally into long pieces, or "French" cut beans lengthwise into thin slices using a vegetable peeler.

Cook the beans either by boiling or pressure cooking. To boil 6 cups beans, place them in a saucepan, sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and add 1 cup boiling water. Cover tightly and boil gently for 10 minutes.
Then add 2 tablespoons butter and cook uncovered until beans are tender, about 4 to 6 minutes.

To pressure cook 6 cups beans, pour ½ cup water into 3½ quart pressure saucepan; place beans on rack in pan and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt.
Cook at 15 pounds pressure for 1½ to 2 minutes. Reduce pressure immediately by holding saucepan under a stream of cold water. Remove beans and add 2 tablespoons butter.

Good Seasonings With Beans

Seasonings may be added to the beans before cooking or later with the butter. To season 6 cups beans the first way, add one of the following at the same time as the cooking water:

- 2 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 to 3 teaspoon rosemary
- 2 to 3 teaspoons chopped onion or chives
- 2 to 3 bay leaves (remove before serving)
- 2 to 3 silvers garlic (remove before serving)

To season along with the butter add ½ to 1 teaspoon garlic salt, tarragon, basil or savoury.

Big Game Seasons For 1958.

The Department of Lands and Forests has officially released dates for the hunting of deer and moose in Ontario. For sportsmen hunting in the Forest District of Tweed, the 1958 season will be as follows:

From November 3rd to and including November 15th — in the northern part of the District lying north of Highway No. 7 in the Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac, Renfrew South and in the three northern most Townships of Lanark.

In this same area and during the same time, there will be a moose season for residents under a special license for a fee of $26.00. This will entitle the holder of the license to either a deer or moose, not both. No person is entitled to more than one license in any one year for the taking of deer and/or moose. Therefore, no person who has purchased an ordinary deer license can be in possession of the special deer-moose license.

From November 3rd to and including November 8th — in that portion of the Tweed District lying south of Highway No. 7 and north of Highway
No. 401 in the Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac.

Note—

The holder of a deer license
($5.00) is entitled to any one deer during the open season, regardless of its age or sex.

The holder of a special deer-moose license ($26.00) is entitled to any one deer or any one moose during the open season, regardless of the age or sex.

It's amazing the number of things one can remember having forgotten.

LEST WE FORGET

It was in 1921 that the Council bought the property where the Cenotaph now stands, and a Cenotaph Committee was formed to look after the erection of a suitable memorial to those from the village who had paid the supreme sacrifice in war. It was not till 1927 that the present memorial was erected and dedicated to those who gave their all for our freedom.

Each year on Remembrance Day an impressive service is held to honour those whose names appear above.

SCENES OF EARLIER DAYS

Grain Elevators In Stirling

In the 1860's there were two grain elevators in the Village, situated at the C.N.R. station on the north side of the tracks. Mr. C. F. Stickle built them. Grain buyers through the district were G. W. Faulkner, Jas. Tulloch, Jas. Haggerty and Wm. Rodgers. At a later date one elevator was used for an evaporator, apples being dried in a kiln. It is reported that they were packed in barrels and shipped for the making of champagne. One of the elevators burned and the other was purchased by G. B. Bedford in 1920 and rebuilt into a barn on his farm.
